Marshall to Take Leading Role in Shaping Program

Will Draft Final Series of Recommendations for European Recovery

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Secretary Marshall returns to his State Department desk today to take a leading role in shaping final recommendations to Congress for a four-year European recovery program that may cost up to $20,000,000,000.

The program he and other top administration officials are due to turn out within the next week is expected to be laid before congressional committees November 10 with the argument that it offers a "reasonable" chance of (1) saving Europe from economic disaster and (2) preventing a vast westward extension of Russian Communism.

Marshall returned late yesterday from New York where he has made his headquarters for the past six weeks personally directing the American diplomatic offensive in the United Nations Assembly.

He is scheduled to remain here until mid-November when he will leave for London and the Big Four Foreign Ministers Conference on a German peace treaty.

Officials said that despite Marshall's close attention to United Nations affairs in New York, he has kept himself fully informed of European recovery planning here along the self-help lines he himself suggested last June. Hence, they say, he is ready to move into the tasks of the next few days of decision at full speed.

Outlines Laid Down

Actually diplomatic and economic officials say that while almost no final decisions have been made, the broad outlines of the "Marshall plan" already are well laid down. In general and subject to last minute changes they cover these main points to be laid before Congress November 17:

1. The United States would make available to Europe next year a combination of relief and recovery supplies totaling about $6,000,000,000. Relief supplies such as food would be given free. Recovery supplies such as factory machinery would be financed with loans.

2. Beyond the first year and possibly the second it will be impossible to forecast accurately the amount of help Europe will need because of changing conditions. Congress thus would be

Sentence Is Given

Judge Suspends Term for Man Who Tried to Listen In

Springfield, Mass., Oct. 30 (AP)—Karl P. Hartman, 30, of Hazardville, Conn., drew a three months' suspended sentence yesterday for eaves-dropping by installing a dictograph in the bedroom of a young woman with whom he had been friendly and who married another man.

Hartman was accused of rigging the dictograph in the couple's bedroom so he could listen to their conversation through the loudspeaker of his automobile upon their return from their honeymoon.

Clerk of Courts Edward T. Collins said the war veteran husband of the young woman was inclined to be lenient toward Hartman, also a veteran.

Indians Use Planes To Halt Invasion

Pathan Tribesmen Menace Srinagar, Capital of Kashmir

New Delhi, Oct. 30 (AP)—Indian forces have thrown Tempest fighter planes into battle in an attempt to stem a three-pronged invasion from Pakistan menacing Srinagar, capital of Kashmir, New Delhi sources said tonight.

The fighter planes are "the only thing stopping" the invaders, the informants said.

Military sources estimated 2,000 seasoned Indian troops, armed with nothing heavier than machineguns and mortars, were opposing the invasion by Pathan tribesmen in superior numbers, armed with howitzers, mountain guns and mortars. The Dominion of India sent in Sikhs to reinforce the Kashmir state army of 10,000.

The Indians, the informants said, have been pushed back in the Kashmir valley to a point less than 20 miles from the capital—a 12-mile retreat since the outbreak of the hostilities, sparked by the decision of Kashmir's ruler to accede to India. The princely state's population is predominantly Moslem.

Fifteen Royal Air Force Dakotas were expected to complete evacuation today of from 200 to 250 British civilians—mostly retired civil servants, vacationists and children—from Kashmir.

A Bombay dispatch said four air lines—Air India, Air Services of India, Mistri Airways and Ambica Airlines—suspended service from Bombay because all planes were commandeered by India's government.

Questioning Bormann On Father's Whereabouts

Vienna, Oct. 30 (AP)—Martin Bormann, Jr., 17-year-old son of Adolf Hitler's long-missing right-hand man, was arrested Monday by American troops near Salzburg. He had been living and working there as a farmhand since May, 1945.

Headquarters of U. S. forces in Austria, which announced the arrest, said he was being interrogated as to the whereabouts of his father, who has been missing since the last days of the battle for Berlin and who is under sentence of death for war crimes.

Two Are Sentenced

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Julius Bercse, 20, and James R. Hazlett, 19, both of Philadelphia, were sentenced in Dutchess County Court today to the New York State Department of Correction reception center in Elmira on their pleas of guilty to second degree robbery in a tavern holdup last August 3 in Pawling, N. Y. County Judge John R. Schwartz recommended that both youths be committed to the Elmira Reformatory rather than state prison because of their ages and what he called their good army records.

Reports Car Struck

Mrs. Fred Weeks of Shokan reported to the sheriff's office Wednesday evening that while driving from Shokan to Boiceville on Route 28 near the Grossman place her car had been struck by another car which failed to stop. The left side of her car was damaged. The offending car was traveling toward Kingston. Deputies Joseph Haver and Ray Winne investigated.

Grand Jury Drops Charge Against Connecticut Woman

Signor Is Charged With Negligence in Garrity Death, October 10

The grand jury reported to Justice Francis Bergan in Supreme court at 11 o'clock this morning, reporting 25 indictments. There were 10 open and 15 sealed indictments and 8 dismissals. Among the eight dismissals was the charge of criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle which had been lodged against Alberta Ligourie of Connecticut, which grew out of an automobile accident in Port Ewen recently when the Relyea child was fatally injured.

Only one of the sealed bills was opened, that which charged Kenneth Signer, also known as Signor, of Cottekill with criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle on October 10, last, when C. V. Garrity of Shandaken was fatally injured. A plea of innocent was entered and the bail of $2,000 was continued. Charles Gaffney appeared for defendant and asked that he be given 30 days to make further motions in the case and that he be provided with a copy of the indictment. The case was transferred to county court.

Open indictments were as follows:

Lincoln Hornbeck, Kingston, grand larceny, first degree; alleged to have been committed on August 28 involving an affair at a Kingston hotel. He had no counsel and a plea of innocent was entered. The case was transferred to county court where counsel will be assigned. Hornbeck was remanded.

Thomas A. Jones, Saugerties, abandonment of children on March 5, 1946. Plea of innocent entered and the case transferred to county court. He was remanded.

Edward Earl Summerall, grand larceny, first degree, in two counts involving the taking of a car from a guest at Lake Mohonk on August 17, last. He pleaded innocent and the case was transferred to county court where counsel will be assigned. Remanded.

Lewis Frederick Booth, town of Lloyd, charged with sodomy and assault, second degree, on April 16, last. Booth, 17, pleaded innocent and the grand jury recommended the case be disposed of under the youthful offender law. Charles Gaffney appeared for defendant and the case was transferred to county court. Remanded.

Lava G. Smith, also known as Lovie Smith, a charge of carrying a concealed pistol on September 27, last, in town of Marlborough. He pleaded innocent and said he would retain A. J. Cook, Jr., as counsel. Case transferred to county court and the defendant remanded to jail.

Will Try Hutchinson

Richard Ernest Hutchinson, cook at Williams Lake, charged with grand larceny, first degree, for the alleged taking of a sum of money from the hotel management on September 21, last. Case transferred to county court on plea of innocent. Remanded.

Willie Cypress, Milton, charged with grand larceny, second degree, on October 7. Plea of innocent entered and case transferred to county court. The charge involves the taking of a car. Remanded.

Violet Brown Miller Jones, bigamy, alleged to have been committed on October 3, in Kingston. Plea of innocent entered and case transferred to county court. The

Clark Announces He Has Filed Suit Against Bankers

Government Also Asks Association Dissolve; Calls Case One of Largest

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Attorney General Clark today announced the filing of a civil anti-trust suit against 17 of the largest investment banking firms in New York. The suit charges a conspiracy to monopolize the handling of securities issues.

In addition, the government asks for dissolution of the Investment Banker Association of America which maintains headquarters in Chicago.

Clark told a news conference the suit is being filed in federal district court for southern New York.

He described the suit as "one of the largest and most important in the history of the anti-trust laws."

The complaint alleges that the 17 banking firms "have conspired to restrain unreasonably and to monopolize the securities business in this country by restricting, controlling and fixing the channels and methods, the prices, terms, and conditions upon which security issues are merchandised."

The securities were described in the suit as covering "stocks, notes, bonds, debentures, or other interest certificates."

The defendants have their principal offices in New York and many maintain branch offices elsewhere. They were named as:

Courses for Veterans To Start November 5

New classes in the Veterans' Vocational School at Troy will start November 5, offering practical courses in several trades.

This was announced today by two local state veteran counselors, Donald G. Moore and Morgan D. Ryan, who advised that classes will be filled on a "first come, first served" basis.

The courses: Auto body and fender repair, auto painting and refinishing, Diesel engine and maintenance, repair, industrial electronics, painting and decoration, plumbing and heating, radio and communications and sheet metal work.

All veterans interested in the courses are urged to apply at once to the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 240 Fair street.

Two Escape Death in Freak Electrical Storm; Barn Burns

Cow Is Killed, House Extension Ignites; Blast Felt Over Wide Area

A man and wife narrowly escaped serious injury when a lightning bolt spent itself in fire and destruction at Krumville early this morning during a freak October electrical storm.

It levelled a barn, killed one of three cows housed in it and set fire to an extension on Beaver Lake House operated by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ullmann both of whom were on an upper floor when the bolt struck.

Mrs. Ullmann, who was asleep in the room where the bolt appeared to strike first, awakened to find carpet burning only two or three feet from the bed. Her husband who had been awake for a few minutes before the lightning struck was in the bedroom hallway.

Mrs. Ullmann, neighbors reported, was dazed by the lightning, but managed to extinguish the fire in the bedroom. Her husband, meanwhile, looked out a window and saw the barn on fire, but when he rushed to the telephone to notify the fire department, found that the lightning had destroyed the circuit.

Effects of the blast were felt for several miles in the area and other farmers in the vinicity, who reported the thunder the loudest they had ever heard, reported damage to fuses and electric fence systems.

Twenty-five members of the Olive Fire Department worked desperately to save the main 20-room, three-story boarding house and other structures on the property, when they saw the fire in the barn hopelessly out of control.

Thrown From Bed

Lester Barringer, who lives across a field a half mile away from the Ullmann property, reported that the force of the bolt threw him from his bed and disrupted telephone and other electric lines. Fuses were blown out, he said, and an electric control box for a fence on his premises, was damaged.

Henry Merrihew, who also lives some distance away, also reported that overhead wires on his property were demolished and that similar damage was done to his electric fence system. The wires were scattered, he said, and some were vaporized.

Charles Martin, a relative of the Ullmanns, reported that the bolt had apparently blown out a rear tire on his auto.

Room Is Shambles

The inside of the room on the extension of the Ullmann house where the bolt apparently struck first, was described as "a shambles." Electric connection

15 Fires Burn

May Reopen Forests

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Fifteen forest fires smouldered in New York today as state officials studied the possibility of lifting the order closing the forests to the public and suspending hunting.

The Conservation Department said "any determination of lifting the governor's order, either partially or generally throughout the state," would be made after study of the U. S. Weather Bureau's late afternoon forecast.

Governor Dewey ordered the Adirondacks closed Oct. 17 and extended his order Oct. 22 to cover the entire state.

"Development of heavy rains or a continuation of the present weather" would be required to eliminate the hazard, he added, the pine-wooded sections of the state have not received "a good penetration of rain," he said.

Plane's Wreckage Is Seen in Oregon; Doubt Any Alive

Governor, Other Officials Are Feared Dead; War Veteran May Be Successor

Klamath Falls, Ore., Oct. 30 (AP)—The wreckage of a plane carrying Gov. Earl Snell of Oregon and two other top officials and the pilot was reached by a search party today and there were no survivors, Fremont Forest Supervisor Merle Lowden said today.

Lowden said that Ranger Jack Smith, with the party at the wreckage, reported by portable radio that the aircraft was completely demolished and that four bodies were found.

Lowden said that an attempt would be made immediately to establish further communication with the crew. He said he believed the bodies are now being moved out.

Klamath Falls, Ore., Oct. 30 (AP)—Foresters and scores of veteran woodsmen worked through a rugged southern Oregon mountain area in the pre-dawn darkness today to reach the wreckage of a private plane that carred Oregon's governor, the secretary of state, the state senate president and an experienced pilot.

The shattered wreckage was sighted and identified late yesterday by two civilian pilots who reported the small craft was "so damaged that no one could be alive."

There seemed slight chance that fate had spared any of the four who left here Tuesday night on a one-hour flight to Lake county's Warner Valley to hunt ducks and geese.

Aboard the single engine four-place sportsplane were Governor Earl Wilcox Snell, 52; State Senate President Marshall Cornett, 49, next in line of succession to the governorship; Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr., 41, and Cliff Hogue, 42, Klamath Falls, the pilot.

The search was centered in a small sector of heavy timbered terrain in the rim rock country 70 miles east of here and a few miles north of the Oregon-California border.

Confirmation of the death of the governor and his normal successor, the Senate president, automatically elevates the speaker of the State House of Representatives to the governorship. He is John H. Hall, 48, a Portland attorney and World War I veteran. The office of secretary of state would be filled by appointment in the event that official also died in the crash Tuesday night.

The succession of the speaker is provided by the Oregon constitution, in an amendment approved by the voters in 1946 at the time the nation became concerned over the succession line in the federal government.

Eight Years In Legislature

Hall has been a member of the Legislature since 1939, after a previous two-year term served from 1933, and like all Oregon key executives is a Republican.

The three Oregon officials had left the state capital Tuesday, planning a direct flight to the ranch of Oscar Kittredge. The rancher is a personal friend of

Port Ewen Slates Big Celebration for Halloween Night

Esopus Legion, Auxiliary Arrange Parade and Party for Children of Whole Town

Port Ewen, Oct. 29—A real joyful celebration is scheduled for this village Friday evening, when the American Legion and Auxiliary sponsor a Halloween parade and party for the children.

Kiddies from every hamlet in the Town of Esopus are invited and indications are that the village will be overflowing with witches, pirates, clowns, and all the other characters synonymous with Halloween.

Esopus Post, 1298, requests the children to meet on Salem street, near the town auditorium, at 7 o'clock, for the big parade that will be led by the Port Ewen Fife Drum and Bugle Corps.

After their march through the side streets of the village, averting heavy traffic arteries, the celebrators will flock into the auditorium for a program of fun and frolic, featuring refreshments.

There will be lots of free cider and crullers for the children, whose parents are invited to accompany them.

Games will consist of peanut races, pie-eating contests, peanut and spoon race, pinning the tail on a donkey, ducking for apples and "musical" chairs.

There will be an "Amateur Night" program, with prizes for the best entertainers.

Of course, the regular grand march will be held, with awards for: Most original costume for girl under six years of age, boy under six, boy and girl over six, funniest dressed girl, funniest dressed boy, most grotesque boy's costume, most grotesque girl's costume, best dressed pirate, best dressed witch, girl with best boy's costume, boy with best girl's costume and best dressed couple.

Music will be furnished for dancing.

There will be a traffic officer at the corner of Broadway and Salem street. Children are cautioned to cross the state highway at this point and no other. The parade will not traverse 9W at any time.

Vetoskie Case Closed

District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn said today that the investigation into the death of Wanda Vetoskie of Connelly, whose body was found in the Rondout creek off the Connelly dock on Saturday last, had been concluded and that the case had been one of apparent suicide. There was no evidence of foul play disclosed, he said. The young woman's body was recovered 10 feet off the dock with a heavy weight around the neck. Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said death was from strangulation.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—The position of the Treasury Oct. 28: Receipts $159,127,057.74; expenditures, $106,614,867.01; balance, $3,904,441,356.59; customs receipts for month $36,248,847.12; receipts fiscal year July 1, $11,938,983,281.91; expenditures fiscal year, $11,779,732,256.96; excess of receipts $159,251,024.95; total debt, $259,032,610,065.97; decrease under previous day, $15,725,990.24; gold assets, $22,291,664,470.88.

Amendment Three Is Backed By Citizens Legislative Group

Approval of Amendment 3 on Election Day was urged today by the Citizens Committee on Legislative Procedure as a step in the direction of continued good government. The amendment would permit the fixing of legislative salaries by statutes, as is the case in Congress and in many other states.

The committee said that the New York State Legislature is the most important legislative body in the country, after the U. S. Congress. Yet Congressmen get five times the salary paid a State legislator. Congressmen get $12,500 a year plus $2,500 tax free expense allowance. Assemblymen and State Senators get $2,500 salary annually, or $48 a week.

The amendment has the approval of both major parties and many taxpayer and civic associations. Governor Dewey, in his message to the Legislature in 1945 said:

"I have long entertained the view that this constitutional limitation ($2,500) is wholly outdated and is contrary to the public interest. Certainly the people of this State do not desire that their legislators should render their important services at a personal financial loss. By contrast, the City of New York pays the members of its legislative body $5,000 a year and they do not have to travel long distances to Albany every week for three or four months of the year."

Robert W. Dowling, prominent New York businessman and civic leader, is chairman of the committee. Willson Campbell, five-time mayor of Bath, and a tax authority, is vice chairman.

200 Attend Session at Town Hall

Assistant State Director Says Town Board Will Be Given Full Report

Residents Speak

Some Esopus Taxpayers, Others Give Opinions at Meeting

Lloyd B. Maeder, assistant director of the New York State Traffic Commission, told more than 200 citizens of the town of Esopus last evening that a partial survey had been completed of traffic conditions in Port Ewen and that following compiling of further accident data, the whole matter would be laid before the Traffic Commission for consideration and a report would then be made to the town board containing recommendations.

Several citizens of the town, including some from other school districts where traffic conditions endanger school children, spoke at the public meeting held in town hall after the town board had concluded its routine business session.

Supervisor John T. Groves presided and explained the purpose of the meeting. Mr. Groves said the meeting has been called to discuss with the Traffic Commission representative and members of the State Police, the traffic situation in Port Ewen, a condition which had been pointedly brought to the attention of the town board following the recent death of a young child of the village in a traffic accident.

The members of the town board were all present and the entire proceedings were taken by Supreme Court Stenographer A. R. Kirwin. Mr. Groves explained that any citizen of the town would be heard. He stated that a great many letters, too many to be read at the meeting had been received seeking remedy from the dangerous condition which exists in the village. These letters were open to the public at the town board office. Two resolutions had been received, one from the Citizens Committee and a second from the Town of Esopus Chamber of Commerce, asking for action to protect the children of the town.

Protection Is Asked

The first portion of the meeting was confined to hearing citizens and then Mr. Maeder replied to the questions asked.

Carlton Taylor, principal of District 13, said the parents had met with the school board and asked protection for the school children when they enter and leave the school building which is located directly on Route 9W, the main state highway through the village. He said pedestrian lines had been placed on the cross walks in front of the school, traffic standards designating the school zone had been procured and a constable had been placed on duty at the school crossing during the hours the children were entering and leaving the building and he said there was nothing else which the school authorities could do. Mr. Taylor said he believed the school board had met the problem and there had been excellent cooperation from all.

Mabel Coons, teacher at the Esopus village school, spoke in behalf of the residents of that area. She called attention to the dangerous condition at the site of No. 3 school which is located near a curve in the main highway. In

Final Tribute Paid

President Joins in Burial Service at Arlington for 20 War Dead

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—President Truman joins today in a last sad tribute to a score of the country's honored dead.

He arranged to attend mass burial services at historic Arlington National Cemetery for 20 American fighting men who gave their lives in World War II.

The flag-draped caskets were among those recently returned from temporary graves abroad.

The 20 bodies are the first of an estimated 6,000 to be buried in the national shrine just across the Potomac river from Washington.

Date With Negro Brings Rooming House Ouster

Madison, Wis., Oct. 30 (AP)—The owners of a private rooming house for co-eds at the University of Wisconsin have evicted two girl students, one for having dated a negro student.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Rupe, in a statement yesterday, said they had asked Iris Alexander, a student from New York city, to leave after she returned to their rooming house from an interracial party at the University Memorial Union with an unidentified negro student.

The second co-ed evicted, the Rupes said, was Constance Felton, a senior from Brooklyn "for sympathizing with Miss Alexander and indignantly telling Mrs. Rupe off regarding the matter."

"The other girls would not stay here if Miss Alexander and Miss Felton continued their interest in negroes," the Rupes said. ". . . There is no religious prejudice concerned. But a private home is no place for inter-mixing."

Miss Alexander, who is chairman of the social relations committee of the university student board, said she had placed the matter before the board.

Pre-partition India was a little more than half the size of the United States.

Natives Join Coast Guard Parties in Search for Plane

Ketchikan, Alaska, Oct. 30 (AP)—Southeastern Alaska natives joined with Coast Guard ground searching parties today in attempts to locate a missing Pan American World Airways plane with 18 aboard.

Duke Island, lying south of Annette Island, was one search area and planes flew as low as 100 feet over its beaches and inlets yesterday looking for the big ship which disappeared Sunday. The plane's veteran pilot, Capt. Alf N. Monsen, reported extreme air turbulence as he neared Annette Island Sunday afternoon.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show that there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 30, 1947

HALLOWEEN

Elaborate plans for a gay city-wide Halloween Party on Friday evening have been made by the Recreation Department, American Legion, Forty and Eight Society, Kingston Patrolmen's Association and the Musicians Union. The program which calls for parades followed by festivities at the Municipal Auditorium should be thoroughly enjoyed by thousands of children.

Halloween, the eerie night when witches ride, is a fitting time for a rollicking party for both the children and parents. This community celebration provides a good time for the youth and it should be the occasion of real fun and not wanton destruction of property.

The vandalism that characterized Halloween in earlier times is frowned upon now. Many of the old forms of violence and destruction have gone out of favor with the young people, who know that vandalism destroys the spirit of Halloween.

The city-wide celebration affords the youth of the city an opportunity to have real fun and there should be no destructive practices or disorderly acts. The destruction of property is a violation of the law and the children should be so warned by their parents. The youth of the city should be encouraged to join in the city-wide Halloween Party.

IN MEMORY

Innumerable, and of almost countless variety, are the testimonials and remembrances connected with the recent war and its memories, especially in connection with the men whose lives were lost, and whose bodies are now brought home here for interment with their own kin. Here is a noble passage from one of the many testimonials of these heroes who gave everything for their country.

"Today we meet in the heart of a city appropriately engaged in honoring the valiant dead whose remains have been brought here by a grateful government. Their final resting place is to be near their bereaved ones, who with tender affection are venerating their memory with burial in their own city and home. What a precious thing is freedom when the mortal remains of the brave men convince us of its cost! Such a precious thing is freedom that these men gave up all the freedom they had, to defend it. Their America is strong and safe today because they loved it enough to leave it forever rather than to see it destroyed."

LIFE ON MARS

If living conditions are too difficult, try Mars. Astronomers' opinions as to whether this planet is habitable or not have been alternately yes and no for a long time. Percival Lowell, observing Mars from the clear air of Flagstaff, Ariz., felt sure that he observed the growth of vegetation and the advance of snow from the Martian poles. Later astronomers thought that he was overworking his imagination.

Now Dr. Gerhard P. Kuiper, director of the Yerkes Observatory in Wisconsin and the McDonald Observatory in Texas, testifies to the existence of vegetation and changing snowcaps. New astronomical instruments, according to his account, also reveal the presence on Mars of carbon dioxide in much the same quantity as on the earth.

All this shows the possibility of some form of life not too unlike that on our planet. The possibility only, for proof is still wanting. Nor do Dr. Kuiper's discoveries show, if Mars is livable, how to get there.

NO ESCAPE

Train passengers traveling between Washington and New York now take it as a commonplace experience to be called to the telephone. A switchboard in the lounge car flashes lights during the whole trip and keeps an operator busy answering calls from all over the country and then locating the passenger wanted. Shortly, the train telephones will be taken for granted as much as is air conditioning.

The principle of this modern miracle is use of radio over which the passenger's voice travels from the moving train to the nearest mobile receiving station of the telephone company. From here it is conveyed over the usual land lines.

Like the automobile telephone, operated on similar lines, the telephone on a train sounds like a doubtful convenience. Once upon a time a man could shed his office and home cares while he was riding on a railroad car. Now these troubles can overtake him and ride with him each mile of the journey. There is such a thing as becoming too efficient.

The conditions of installment buying have been liberalized, but sound advice to the buyers would be, "Go easy!"

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

JOHNSTON AND McNUTT

The motion picture industry is repeating the error made when it hired Wendell Willkie to cover up. This time they have hired Eric Johnston and Paul McNutt, but there will be no cover up. It is not because Johnston and McNutt are less competent, but that times have changed. The American people have heard the voice of Vishinsky. They have witnessed the downfall of a large number of countries in Europe because their people were not vigilant. They want to make sure that no so-called American is working for the international conspiracy that Vishinsky represents at the United Nations. Talk about a synthetic "scare" is silly after what has been happening to this world since V-J Day.

If the motion picture industry had any competence at public relations, they would favor the Thomas Committee investigation and let the chips fall where they may. Instead, they are employing Eric Johnston and Paul McNutt to sign full page advertisements in newspapers, to issue interviews, to threaten the Thomas Committee and to get themselves and their photographs in the newspapers along with a heterogenous group of mummers and directors and things who prefer citations for contempt rather than to tell their true names and to answer whether they are or are not Communists, which might land them in a perjury charge.

The impression which the Johnston and McNutt activity gives is that, on behalf of the motion picture industry, they are engaged in a publicity barrage designed to detract attention from men and women who may expose themselves as Communists. The non-Communist or anti-Communist has nothing to fear. After all, decent men are not afraid to answer the question: Are you married or single?

Since the learned Judge Fuld of the New York State Court of Appeals has made it difficult to describe a known Communist as such unless the Communist is willing to produce a party card, which he will not do, the only protection the United States has against a Rusian Fifth Column and a vast body of American Quislings is such an investigation as the Thomas Committee is conducting and the work of the FBI. These creatures now have judicial protection to do their work in this state, fearful only of the Thomas Committee and the FBI.

It is all very simple before the Thomas Committee: If a man is not a Communist, an agent of Soviet Russia and has never been one, and has no vile record, all he needs to do is to so state under oath. I would be willing to take such an oath at any time. So would most Americans. The only ones who dare not take such an oath are those who fear the charge of perjury and its consequences.

They can make a lot of noise about freedom of thought, but what we face is the corruption of our children, the use of the most popular medium of amusement, one that appeals particularly to young people, by an enemy. If it can be proved, after investigation, that the movies have not been used corruptly, then that is to the credit of the motion picture industry. If it is established, as some say, that only a handful of writers, actors and directors are involved in this indecency, then it is an advantage, for we know who they are. If it is found that the objectionable characterizations and the objectionable sequences were done as war propaganda under the stimulus of soft-minded public officials, then we ought to know about that and who the officials were or are. The fact that villains on the screen are generally bankers or business men is definitely designed to stimulate opposition to the American economic system.

At any rate, let us have whatever facts can be brought to the surface, so that Americans may be safeguarded against the forces that have wrecked and ruined country after country in Europe.

Do we have to declare war to catch traitors? Do we have to spill the blood of our sons because we wish to safeguard the jobs of miserable creatures who put their own country last? Every Communist is an enemy of the United States of America and has been uninterruptedly since October, 1917.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

PAIN IN TEETH AND JAWS

There is nothing much more painful than an aching tooth or jaw. Your dentist will tell you that if you can properly describe the pain he may more readily find the cause and give early relief. This is the statement of Dr. Earle E. Thomas, Chicago, in the "Journal of the American Dental Association."

A pain described by the patient as knife-like, cutting, darting, stabbing, shooting, sharp or like an electric shock, usually means an irritation of the larger nerves of the jaw by some disturbance close to these nerves. It usually is acute infection caused by an abscess in the tooth socket, especially in the side and back or grinding molar teeth.

Pain described as burning, scalding, drawing or pulling also means irritation of the large nerves, but is more likely to be caused by some blocking of the nerves or the blood supply to the part — burning tongue, pressure from artificial teeth; contraction or drawing of scar tissue from operation after removal of a tooth.

Aching, boring, throbbing or jumping pain is usually caused from infection where infected tissue cannot escape or drain. This jumping, boring pain is very common because the cause — an infected root — is common.

Where cold or heat causes pain that soon passes away, the pulp (nerve and blood vessels) is not inflamed. When the pulp is inflamed (infected), hot and cold applications cause the pain to last for several minutes or hours. Where the pulp is "dead" the intense pain caused by heat is relieved by cold.

Other conditions: Where jaw bone, holding the teeth, is infected, pain is worse at night. In sinus infection pain increases when the patient bends forward or is present when patient awakens, but becomes less during the morning and stops at noon. When inflammation is in the covering of the tooth (in its socket), biting against the tooth relieves the pain.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Oct. 29—Some of our courts have built up a rule which protects in their treachery those actual enemies of the United States who are Communists but deny that they are. It is ironical that patriotic judges should shield men whom they surely regard as anti-American conspirators when they could rule the other way. Nevertheless, some of them do.

The theory is roughly this:

Communists and fellow travelers are objects of loathing, and actual Communists may be excluded from some public positions. Therefore, any person who calls another a Communist, a fellow-traveler or even, in some jurisdictions, a Red, may be called upon to prove it and pay damages if he can't. There is a thin theory here that the government might refuse to employ some innocent individual merely because someone else said he was a Communist. Actually anyone so excluded would be rejected not because of anything that anyone else had said but because the government had its own reliable information.

So far, the question has not reached the Supreme Court. If the Court were consistent, the patriotic American might feel confident that, in due time, the justices would stick to reasoning already expressed and throw the Muscovities downstairs.

There are previous decisions which seem to promise that the patriot will be made free to call a man a Communist who plainly is and deliberately taunts good citizens to say that he is.

In one case, Justice Frankfurter wrote that it was harmless repartee to say that a man was a Fascist, with malicious intent to damage his reputation and destroy his business when there was absolutely no ground for the charge.

Here, a racket union had tried to compel a pair of industrious Graeco-Americans, who had a little restaurant, to hire union members to do work which they did themselves. The union picketed the place with false statements that any customer who patronized it was guilty of promoting Fascism. That does seem so silly that you might justify the Court's decision that the remarks were just juvenile bickering. But when you reflect that a teamster or a tailor might be blackballed from coast to coast for crossing a picket line and patronizing Fascists, you think again. This union intended these slogans to hurt. It did not follow that they were harmless just because nobody really believed them. In many other cases, the boss vermin of the union racket have placarded premises with lies which the public knew to be lies, and when 100,000 customers quit in fear of punishment as scabs, the preposterous hurts as much as the truth. Still the Supreme Court called these little white lies.

Recently, when the Thomas Committee on un-American Activities took testimony on Communism in Hollywood, the general public heard for the first time who the traitors were who have been needling propaganda into the films and blackballing from the business many a good American. Incidentally, I hope some way may be found to make some amend to Patterson McNutt, a first-class movie writer who fought in the first war and was driven out of Hollywood two years ago, sick and beaten after a long, lone siege. Like the stiletto this treacherous European weapon strikes unseen and makes no sound. McNutt had fought the reptilian sneaks of the guilds and he was whispered out at the top of his ability while the Eislers and other ingrate refugees rode in chaises.

This hearing of the Thomas Committee gave the papers and the radio their first free opportunity to print names. It was the first time they had been mentioned in sworn testimony. Even when a citizen in formal debate unguardedly calls his opponent a Red, he may be financially crippled or destroyed by the American courts. The lawyers for the Communists are well paid. The money comes from rich contributors in Hollywood and New York and from arbitrary assessments for "defense funds" levied by Communist unions.

Invariably, the Communists demand enormous judgments, and, almost invariably, they are mischief-makers who would not lose face in the circle of their friends because their friends are all the same. Their risk of financial loss and their professional handicap in private employ or government service is theoretical and a verdict of six cents would be fair in any case. In McNutt's case, the damage was not imaginary. They ruined him.

Hollywood Group Is Considered to Have Made Blunder by Arousing Suspicion Among Americans

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Oct. 30—The country is talking about the investigation of Communists and alleged Communists by the House Committee on un-American Activities. Up to a few days ago, it didn't look as if the committee had uncovered much or that it was on a hot trail. It seemed that the investigation would fail for lack of proof.

Then the radical fringe which sometimes loses itself in an emotional outburst that impairs its judgment made a blunder. Someone told the Hollywood folks of the pinkish variety that they didn't have to testify and that they could legally refuse to say whether or not they are Communists or Communist sympathizers. At this point the radical brethren ran head on into the basic principles of our constitutional system and aroused immediately a suspicion that they have something to conceal or don't have the courage to stand by their convictions.

What they didn't know evidently is that it has been well settled by court decisions that a committee of Congress may ask a citizen any question and the citizen must answer unless he has committed a crime and in answering the question might tend to give testimony against himself.

It doesn't matter whether a congressional committee is or is not ready to say why it wants the information. The courts have ruled that Congress may need information in order to determine how and what to legislate and that hence there can be no curb on the quest for information by a legislative committee.

Unless congressional committees have such power, our whole system of government would be weakened because legislative bodies would be defied when they sought information on prices or profits or labor relations or any other of the vital subjects on which public opinion might demand legislation.

Now this is not to say that congressional committees are fair. They rarely have been impartial and they have smeared many a reputation without legitimate cause. Some of these same radical brethren cheered loudly when New Deal committees of Congress smeared business men and when the New Deal chieftain made his fireside talks accusing business men of malpractices without distinguishing between the few who might accurately be so described and the many who were being unjustly denounced by innuendo and otherwise.

There is only one defense against the unfairness of the publicity derived from a Congressional committee's attack. That is a barrage of truth and a courageous answer.

The people who refuse to testify are their own worst enemies, for they tend to convict themselves in the court of public opinion. It is lawful for a citizen to proclaim himself a Communist. Congress may some day legislate on the subject, but it hasn't so far. Just why anyone who is sincerely addicted to the Communistic philosophy should hesitate to avow it is a puzzle.

But, by the same token, it falls with ill grace on a fair-minded public for the Communist sympathizer to defy our constitutional law and claim immunity under the free-speech clause of the constitution.

The free-speech clause does not give everybody the right to say anything he or she pleases. The laws of libel and slander furnish a wholesome restraint. Nor does it protect any citizen from the inquisitorial function of government, which at least is out in the open and not characterized by the physical coercion, intimidation or bludgeoning which witnesses undergo in a certain country whose system the Communists profess to revere and are by inference asking America to adopt.

It is very unfair also that members of both houses of Congress are protected under the constitution from being sued for libel or slander for what they may say on the floor of either House or in committees, but no liberal has yet come out in favor of a repeal of that provision of the constitution. There is only one remedy for that sort of unfairness when practiced by members of Congress. It is to dare the member to repeat his remarks outside of Congress and prove his statements to a jury in a suit for libel or slander.

There are many things about our constitutional system which bring unfairness, and methods of committee investigation by Congress are among them. But whoever refuses to testify because he doesn't like the question will get scant sympathy from a fair-minded public. In America questions are asked by Congress and everyone has the right of reply and the right to denounce the question and the questioner, but the information must be forthcoming or the person who refuses it goes to jail if a charge of contempt is sustained. That's the constitutional law of America today. If any of the radicals are interested, they might learn that Parliament in Britain and other democracies require the same respect for parliamentary questioning.

Then and Now

County fairs in states like our own New York are primarily exhibits of the extent and quality of agriculture in the farm country, but earlier records indicate that they once served for bartering and marketing as well.

One early account said that two fairs were authorized each year in the county. The first was scheduled for Kingston on the third Thursday in March through Saturday. The second was scheduled to begin on the second Thursday in October and also continued through Saturday.

Public and open markets were held every Saturday in the city, but the fairs apparently were like the modern bargain and special sales days.

Early records on market facilities also indicate that only one store served the city in its earlier years. "It is most probable," says one report, "that in all this region," (which apparently included the county) "there was no store or place for trading except at the store of Louis DuBois in Kingston."

This store, says the account, "stood on the northwest corner of the present Clinton avenue and John street," and "At the death of the merchant his widow carried it on until her second marriage when the latter husband, Jean Cottin, became the proprietor."

For those interested in what type of merchandise was handled, the book "Olde Ulster" advises that "The First Reformed Church is the possessor of his mercantile books, kept in French which should be translated."

"Every housewife was spinner, weaver and tailor in those days; every farmer was carpenter, mason and blacksmith; sugar was the product of the maples; canned meats, fruits and vegetables were to await until about the coming of the 20th century, and coffee was unknown."

The records indicate that Ulster county was trading with the West Indies as the old court records show and cargoes of rum came in with the gin of Holland and the brandy of France, and it is in evidence that our ancestors were cheered, if not inebriated, by the steepings of the tea of China."

The county fairs, it appears, had courts and the "judge sat during the fair and settled questions on the spot as an oriental cadi. It was their duty also to test the weights and measures used at the fair and this duty was turned over to the clerk of the court, who marked the weights and measures with a stamp. The court opened with the proclamation, 'if you have any fault to find speak now or never.'"

The book explains that the fair in the spring included quantities of furs secured during the preceding winter, and at the "exhibition of the fall the products of the field were the equivalent for coveted exhibits on the market. At either fair the handiwork of the women, spinning flax or wool, bought coveted fabrics brought on long voyages to New York from the Orient."

Such were the fairs in the formative days of Ulster county.

Will Use Caisson

Boston, Oct. 30 (AP)—The horse-drawn caisson that bore the body of Franklin D. Roosevelt to its grave at Hyde Park, N. Y., will be used tomorrow to carry the body of Corp. Wesley G. Ross. Arrangements to have the caisson sent from West Point to Hyde Park, Mass., for the funeral of young Ross, who died at Pearl Harbor, were made with the War Department by members of William D. Doyle Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The body will be carried on the caisson, drawn by white horses, to Mount Hope Cemetery for burial after services at the First Congregational Church.

Former Neversink Man Is Named To Veterans' Post

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Dr. Paul R. Hawley, director of medicine for the Veterans Administration, said today Dr. Arden Freer of Washington has succeeded Dr. Robert C. Cook as deputy medical director.

Dr. Cook will become manager of the Fort Logan, Colo., Veterans Hospital.

Dr. Freer, a native of Neversink, N. Y., attended New York University and Bellevue Hospital Medical College in New York city. He retired as a colonel in the Army Medical Corps last May, after 32 years of duty, and has been with the Veterans Administration professional service section since last January.

Dr. and Mrs. Freer have two sons, Major Arden S. Freer, a former 9th Air Force pilot now teaching air reserve officers training at the University of North Carolina, and Lt. Charles H. Freer, a former navy fighter pilot now on duty with Atlantic Fleet headquarters at Norfolk, Va.

Will Hold House-Cooling Party to Mark Eviction

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 30 (AP)—Kenneth D. Longsdorf, assistant professor of English at Franklin and Marshall College, is going to celebrate his impending eviction with a "house-cooling" party.

Longsdorf said yesterday he feels there's so much inconvenience in connection with being evicted he and his wife think they might as well have some fun in the bargain. So they've invited about 300 students and faculty members to drop in Sunday.

There will be refreshments and even an orchestra made up of student players, Longsdorf said. The Longsdorfs said they are being evicted from their home because they refused to agree to a rent increase, but added they have found another house for $30 a month less rent.

Democrats Settle Everything Except Second Candidate

Truman Probably Will Get Nomination; Forrestal, Douglas, Wallgren, Lane Named

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Democratic party as represented by its national committee gave evidence today that it has settled just about everything for its 1948 convention except who is to run for vice president.

At a one-day meeting yesterday, the committee unanimously picked Philadelphia for next summer's nominating conclave and elected in 43 year old Senator J. Howard McGrath of Rhode Island a new national chairman who favors non-partisan action on emergency legislation at the November 17 session of Congress.

The 108-member group also applauded a statement by retiring Chairman Robert E. Hannegan praising President Truman and asserting millions of Americans are calling for him "to stay at the helm." Everyone present appeared to agree that Mr. Truman would be the nominee in his own right next year.

Vice-presidential talk was informal and scarce.

Most members said it is too early to think about the No. 2 spot. But names heard include those of Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal, a New Yorker; Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, of Washington State and Connecticut; Gov. Monrad C. Wallgren of Washington, and Gov. William Preston Lane, Jr., of Maryland.

Will Be Others

There undoubtedly will be others, and none present yesterday would venture a guess as to who might have the edge. Mr. Truman is represented as yet to make a choice.

Philadelphia, chosen earlier by the Republican party for its 1948 convention beginning June 21, won the Democratic convention yesterday without opposition. San Francisco had planned to put in a bid, but its representative, Mrs. Edward Heller, gave up in the face of apparently overwhelming sentiment for the Pennsylvania city.

McGrath, authorized to name the date, said he thought it would be sometime after July 4.

The new chairman plainly evidenced his feeling that now is not the time to belabor the Republicans.

It was on his recommendation that a resolutions committee withdrew a proposed resolution condemning the record of the Republican-controlled Congress and saying it had placed "partisan politics above love of the country." The draft referred to a "bitter and intemperate Republican majority."

McGrath told reporters he asked the resolutions group to "tear up" their proposal. "That's not the way to get cooperation," he said. Earlier this week at a news conference he had urged the submerging of politics at the coming Congress session starting November 17.

Says Russia Endeavors To Grip All America

Santiago, Chile, Oct. 30 (AP)—Amid the shouts of Communist hecklers, Chilean Interior Minister Adm. Immanuel Holger told the Chamber of Deputies last night that Soviet Russia was trying to "spread its tentacles over America" through the organization of "Pan Slav Unions" with headquarters in Montevideo.

Holger told the chamber that the Chilean government possessed detailed facts and names connected with the organization of Czechoslovak, Yugoslav, Russian and Polish colonies in South America through an "Inter-Slav Coordinating Committee," whose members, he said, had been instructed by "Moscow" not to appear publicly as "Communist elements."

Holger's speech was delivered in explanation of Chile's recent severance of diplomatic relations with Russia and Czechoslovakia and the expulsion of two Yugoslav diplomats, which caused Yugoslavia to break with Chile.

The government investigation department meanwhile reported the arrest last night of three aliens, two Spaniards and a Yugoslav, whom it accused of being Communists engaged in seditious activities.

Local Man (on meeting a girl on the street)—I sent you a kiss over the telephone. I hope you understood it.

Girl—Oh, yes, I understood, all right enough. But to me a kiss over the telephone is like a straw hat.

Man—A straw hat? How?

Girl—Why, it isn't felt.

Husband—Why not?

Wife—The motor policeman who has been following us won't like it.

Mess Cook—Did you say you wanted those eggs turned over?

Hard-bitten Gob—Yeah, to the Museum of Natural History.

She—All my life I have been saving my kisses for a man like you.

He—Prepare to lose the savings of a lifetime.

Husband—I want to buy you something useful for your birthday. What can you suggest?

Wife—Oh, I think a really useful diamond ring would do as well as anything.

Correct this sentence: "When I must choose between votes and common decency," said the statesman, "the voters can go to thunder."

Politeness

"The only true source of politeness is consideration—that vigilant moral sense which never loses sight of the rights, the claims, and the sensibilities of others. This is the one quality, over all others, necessary to make a gentleman."

Town Board Rejects Willow Petition Wednesday Night

Woodstock, Oct. 30—After hearing several recommendations presented by Supervisor Kenneth L. Wilson during a special meeting of the Town Board held in the Town Clerk's office Wednesday evening the Woodstock Town Board approved his recommendations calling for the rejection of the proposed zoning petition of Willow.

Supervisor Wilson, who presided, offered his recommendations and following his talk the Town Board voted in accordance with his views.

He called for the petition for zoning of Willow to be rejected for the following reasons:

1. Since we are not dealing with an ordinary ordinance but rather with one which involves the basic rights of a person to the use of his own property, I would not recommend zoning without practically the unanimous demand of persons affected in this case.

2. Since it was so involved that the use of the land would be used as a means of a livelihood, it is to be noted that the leaders of the pro-zoning petition for the most part make their livelihood outside the Town of Woodstock whereas the opposition for the most part make or contemplate making their living within the proposed zone. Please note that I do not question the right of any citizen of our town to express his opinion but it does denote a basic difference of opinion due to a large extent to the means and place of making their livelihood.

3. At a public hearing held at the Town Hall on October 24, 1947, it was my understanding that both parties admitted the fallacies in this particular petition for zoning.

4. And in conclusion while Article 16 of the town law gives the Town Board of a second class town the great discretion and power in matters of zoning, it has been held by the higher courts that that power is greatly limited by real and compelling necessity. It is my opinion that we would exceed our power in further considering this proposed zoning. I recommend its rejection.

Besides Supervisor Wilson those attending the meeting were Roland Shultis, George J. Braendly, Joseph Fitzsimmons and Harrison Gridley, all justices of the peace; and Grant Elwyn, town clerk.

Halloween Party Judges Selected

Woodstock, Oct. 30—The advisory committee in charge of the Girl Scouts' Open House Halloween Party to be held in the Town Hall, Woodstock, Friday evening, October 31, announces the judges for the Pumpkin Face Contest will be Kenneth L. Wilson, Town Supervisor; James Fitzsimmons, Justice of the Peace; Grant Elwyn, Town Clerk, and Wendell Jones, artist and president of the Woodstock Artists Realty Company. Carl Hubbell, well-known cartoonist, Mrs. Hubbell, Walter O'Meara, prominent author and Mrs. O'Meara will act as judges for the costume awards.

Festivities will begin at 7:30 with the grand march for the up to 10-year children between 8:30 and 9 o'clock. The pumpkin head judging will take place about 9. These two events are scheduled early in the evening so that the youngest group may participate. The grand march for those over 10 years through the high school age, will be held about 10 o'clock, with the march for the adults following.

Two prizes will be awarded the winners of the Pumpkin Head contest, in which scouts only will participate, and two prizes each for the girls and boys costume awards. All children in the township may compete for the costume awards.

George J. Braendly, Justice of the Peace, has consented to be a "cop for a night". This role will not be an entirely new one for the judge as he had many years experience in New York city before coming to the town of Woodstock. Two or three firemen, in uniform, will also be at the party.

Since adults and children alike in the township of Woodstock have been invited to the party, an unusually large crowd is expected.

The Spanhake Orchestra will play for square dancing. There will be games for both children and adults. The refreshments will be the traditional apples, cider, donuts, but something new will be added in the form of bubble gum and lolly pops. David Fairbanks has changed his title for this occasion to Ghost-o-monies.

The ladies who are assisting the Girl Scouts of the town to make their first Open House Party a successful one, are Mrs. Irving Ostrander, chairman, Mrs. Louise Wilson, Mrs. Willard Berryann, Mrs. Louise Bolton, and Mrs. Donald Jackson.

Discussion Group Will Hear Dyrus Cook Sunday Night

Woodstock, Oct. 30 — Dyrus Cook, lecturer and author, will be the guest speaker at the Woodstock Discussion Group meeting Sunday evening, November 2, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Miss Elsa Kimball.

Mr. Cook, well known Woodstock resident, will present his ideas for a way of life he describes as Stable State, a collectivism unit set within the free enterprise framework. Many of the speaker's friends and neighbors are expected to attend the meeting and take part in the open discussion to follow.

Members Express Optimism on New Art Association

Woodstock, Oct. 30 — Several Woodstock artists, including Tomas Penning, president, and Arnold Blanch, chairman, finance committee, Woodstock Artists Association, have stated they consider the Ulster County Art Association, now being planned in Kingston, to be a splendid project, and one that would certainly increase interest in art throughout the county.

Gladys Mitchell, also a member of the Woodstock Artists Association, who has her own gallery in Woodstock, the Mitchell Gallery, is very enthusiastic about the new organization which she believes would develop a very healthy competition and interesting exchange of ideas between the Kingston and Woodstock groups. Miss Mitchell, who has been attending the Kingston meetings, said, "I will certainly lend my support to it, because I heartily believe in it, and I feel it will create a better feeling of neighbourliness."

Villages Notes

Woodstock, Oct. 30—Visiting Mrs. Margaret Kenyon during the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Albright, Pelham, New York, when Mr. and Mrs. Houston Richards were dinner guests on Saturday evening.

Birthday congratulations will be received by Mrs. Norman T. Boggs, Miss Elsa Kimball and Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker on Friday evening when friends gather at the Boggs home for a dinner party.

Mrs. Helen Buttrick will soon close her house in Byrdcliffe and occupy Mrs. Zulma Park's cottage on Chestnut Hill Road during the winter months.

A cocktail party was given on Saturday in honor of Wendell Jones who celebrated his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Fitz Patrick left Woodstock Monday for New York. Mr. Fitz Patrick will enter Medical Center Hospital for observation. While in New York, Mrs. Fitz Patrick will be the guest of Mrs. Amy Small.

Miss Winifred Riley has returned to Woodstock after a two weeks visit with friends in New York.

The Woodstock Country Club will be closed for the season Friday night, October 31.

Restaurant Is Sold

Woodstock, Oct. 30—The Green Gate Restaurant has been sold to Frank Capella by Joseph DiNapoli. The new owner will open Saturday, November 8. Frank LaValle will have charge of the kitchen.

Dance Is Postponed

Woodstock, Oct. 30—The Woodstock Riding Club dance originally scheduled to be held in the Bearsville Odd Fellows Hall on Saturday evening, November 1, has been postponed until Saturday evening, November 8.

Italy is about the size of New Mexico.

Reader Service

Closets are vital to the efficient operation of your home.

If you are building a new house leading architects recommend a minimum of one closet for each bedroom, one for linen, one for coats, one for cleaning and other equipment.

The more the merrier for you.

A separate bedroom closet for each person is desirable if space permits. Such a closet should be at least 34" x 42" or 24" x 54". The latter offers more economical use of space and permits more convenient arrangement of hooks and hangers.

A two-person closet would be most practical if 38" deep and 66" long.

The coat closet may be smaller than the bedroom closet, minimum depth of 24"—space for an ordinary clothes hanger.

It's wise to provide shelves for hats and rubbers, and a number of hooks for odds and ends like umbrellas, dog leashes and pocketbooks.

How to make the most of the closet space you have as well as ideas for the new home you are planning are found in our Reader Service booklet No. 15. Also, interior and exterior modernization, heating and insulation.

Send 25 cents (coin) for "Small Homes, Planning, Financing, Building" to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 West 17th street, New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address with zone, booklet title and No. 15.

Salvation Army, Red Cross Receive Fire Crews' Praise

Fire fighters who have been in the woods for the past several days fighting the disastrous forest fires have been loud in their praise for the work done by both the Salvation Army and the Red Cross in supplying the men with sandwiches and coffee. Many private citizens also co-operated in the work and aided in getting food to the men.

Both the Red Cross and Salvation Army were daily on the job with hundreds of sandwiches and when the fire in the Minnewaska area made it necessary for men to remain in the woods all night, members of the Salvation Army took food directly to the men on the fire lines throughout the night in addition to the serving of food and coffee to the men who had been relieved and came out to the Minnewaska mountain house where a rest station was provided. On Monday night members of the Salvation Army crew remained on duty throughout the night until 4 a. m. to take food and coffee directly to the men on the fire lines. Some 60 men were taken care of by this "front line" service, Forest Ranger Ray Winne, reported today.

While the fire is now considered well under control, Ranger Winne today said that at least 50 men would be needed tonight for patrol work and that unless a very heavy rain comes within the next few hours a similar number of men will be required again Thursday for patrol work on the fire lines.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

New Paltz, Oct. 30—Mrs. George Doxey left Sunday morning for her home in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Representative Jay LeFevre of New Paltz was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Men's Club of Christ Episcopal Church in Poughkeepsie Monday night in the parish house. He spoke on his recent trip with members of the Congressional committee in Alaska in the interest of Alaskan defense.

The National Poetry Association has announced that its annual poetry contest will end November 5. Two members of the New Paltz College class of 1947, Norman Davis and Henry Fenwede, were winners of last year's contest.

Mrs. Raymond Morris has been appointed local chairman for this year's Christmas seal sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Alessi are the parents of a son born October 14 in St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

The annual meeting of the Descendants of the New Paltz Patentees will be held at the Hotel Duane in New York November 10.

Mrs. Alice Mitchell Smiley of Lake Mohonk was violin soloist for the first concert of the season of the Dutchess County Philharmonic orchestra at the Poughkeepsie High School Monday night. She also appeared with the orchestra in the free children's concert which was presented earlier in the evening.

Mrs. Albert Weick, Jr., and daughter, Linda, are guests at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mabel Schneider.

Last Sunday under the direction of Miss Agnes Bensley each class in the Sunday school of the Reformed Church packed a turkish towel served in the form of a bag with gifts they had accumulated for some child in Europe.

Mrs. Bruyn Deyo has been visiting friends in Orange, Va.

Robert Sullivan is enjoying a 90-day leave at the home of his mother, Mrs. John Tizio. He is stationed with the navy at Hawaii.

Members and guests of the U. S. O. Holstein Club enjoyed a turkey dinner Tuesday evening in the Methodist Church. The guest speaker was Harvey Farrington, representative of the Holstein Friesian Association of America as expert advisor for export trade.

Frank Arias entertained his friends on his second birthday October 17. His guests were Juanita and Donald Williams, Tommie Aubrie, Juanita, Norman and Joseph Ronk, Dolores and Richard Andradez, Barry Percell, Charity Arias, Virginia Crawford, Gay Turner, Johnnie McMickle, Mrs. John McMickle, Mrs. Raymond Aubie, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Arias. Mr. and Mrs. John O'Brien and sons of Canaan, Conn., spent Monday night and Tuesday with Mr. O'Brien's mother and sister on the New Paltz and Highland road.

Will Hold Hearings

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—The joint legislative committee on motor vehicle problems will conduct public hearings November 13 at Albany, November 28 at Rochester and December 12 in New York city. Senator Seymour Halpern, Queens Republican who heads the committee, said last night the topics would be compulsory inspection of vehicles and reexamination of drivers involved in accidents.

Retired General Becomes Heir by Newport Adoption

Newport, R. I., Oct. 20 (AP)—A 57-year-old retired army commander has been adopted by an 80-year-old wealthy Newport widow and social leader, with all the rights of a natural son under inheritance tax laws.

The adoption of Brig. Gen. Ralph C. Tobin by Mrs. Hamilton Fish Webster was disclosed last night by John M. Dring, clerk of the Newport Probate Court. He said the papers completing the adoption were filed more than a week ago by William A. Peckham, Newport attorney.

Mrs. Webster's husband died in September, 1939, leaving her an estate valued at 1,250,000 to be held in trust during her lifetime. The will also granted her lifetime use of the Webster's $120,000 Newport estate, Pen Craig.

Dring described the proceedings as a "full age adoption" and said Tobin would retain his own name but would gain all the rights of a natural son. Mrs. Webster has no sons or daughters.

Tobin, when a colonel, was commander of the old Seventh Regiment, New York National Guard, when it was activated and sent to Camp Stewart, Ga., in 1941.

He was president of a commercial crime commission in 1935 which drafted a series of bills presented to a crime conference called by Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York.

Active in Democratic politics here for many years, Mrs. Webster was elected to the Newport Representative Council in 1933 and is a past president of the Garden Association of Newport.

Denounces Dictatorships

Vatican City, Oct. 30 (AP)—Pope Pius XII today denounced postwar totalitarianism which he said sought to submit church to state, although he declared it an error to believe the two could be entirely separate. The Pontiff addressed members of the sacred Roman Rota, one of the three highest ecclesiastical courts, calling upon him at the Castel Gandolfo summer residence at the start of their work year. "The same arguments which the tyrannical governments of yesterday adduced against the church in its fight for the defense of divine rights and of just dignity and human liberty today are used by new rulers to combat her persevering action in behalf of truth and justice," he said.

EAT WELL for Less

Baked Beans Supply Protein

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

One serving of a baked bean dinner, if beans are baked with salt pork and molasses, supplies almost as much protein as a serving of Swiss steak. It gives more iron, too, especially if Boston brown bread is on the menu, too.

Boston Baked Beans

Four cups dry navy beans, ½ pound salt pork, 1 cup molasses, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 3 cups boiling water (from simmered beans).

Wash beans, pick over and soak for 3 hours in boiling water to cover (or overnight in cold water, if preferred). Bring to boil in same water (to preserve minerals and vitamins), adding extra water if needed to cover well; skim; cook slowly until tender—about 50 minutes. Drain beans, reserving cooked water. Turn beans into bean pot or large casserole. Scrape rind of pork until white, score top by cutting down about 1 inch, and bury in beans with rind exposed. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over. Cover; bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 3½ hours or until tender, uncovering during last hour of baking. If necessary, add more water during baking.

Boston Brown Bread

One cup bread flour, 2 teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup corn meal, 1 cup whole wheat flour, ¾ cup molasses, 2 cups sour milk or buttermilk, 1 cup raisins, or nuts (if desired).

Sift flour, soda and salt. Mix with corn meal and whole wheat flour. Mix molasses with sour milk; add dry ingredients. Beat well. If desired, add raisins or nuts. Steam 2 hours in greased molds filled two-thirds full and covered tightly.

Fresh Fruit Compote

Six apples, 6 blue plums, 6 red plums, 6 pears, 1½ cups sugar, ¾ cup water.

Wash fruit; make a syrup by boiling sugar and water together for 5 minutes, then peel and add apples and cook until tender. Remove them and allow to drain. Peel pears and cook in syrup until tender, remove and drain. Add blue and red plums to syrup, cook until they pop, remove and drain. Continue simmering until quite thick, then pour syrup over the fruits. Store in refrigerator. Serve very cold.

EGGLESS, CHICKENLESS THURSDAY MENU

BREAKFAST: Canned tangerine juice with fresh lemon, ready-to-eat wheat flakes, warmed coffee cake, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Toasted peanut butter and chili sauce sandwiches, jelly sandwiches, cubes of cheddar cheese, sliced orange, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, Boston baked beans, Boston brown bread, butter or fortified margarine, cole slaw, fresh fruit compote, coffee, milk.

X-ray Program Is Ready for Schools

Plans have been completed for a chest X-ray program for students of the senior class at Kingston High School on November 13. The program will be carried on under the auspices of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association with the cooperation of the school officials, according to an announcement made today by Harry S. Ensign, president of the association.

On November 14, seniors of New Paltz High School as well as students of the freshman and senior classes in New Paltz State Teachers College will also be given an X-ray. Arrangements will be made to X-ray all teachers, personnel, and bus drivers who wish to take advantage of the X-ray program.

"X-ray examinations are made available to senior high school students, faculty members and personnel, as well as residents of New Paltz State Teachers College," Mr. Ensign explained, "as one of the services of the tuberculosis association financed by Christmas Seals funds."

The annual Christmas Seal Sale to support the association's program in 1948," he continued, "will be conducted from November 24 to December 25.

"Tuberculosis takes the heaviest toll of any disease in the age group between 15 and 45," Mr. Ensign said. "It is extremely important for young people to form the habit in early adulthood of having annual chest X-rays. Thru the X-ray, tuberculosis can be detected before the individual knows he is ill. T.B. is most easily cured in that early symptomless stage."

alled Congress into session ber 17, all right, but it's special session.

's the view of Lew Deschler, parliamentarian, which it official.

t the session will be is a ening of the first session of th Congress, Deschler says. en Congress adjourned last t did not adjourn sine die ut setting a date)." Desch- plained to a bewildered re-djourned until next January at the call of the congres- leaders or, as is provided under the Constitution, at the call of the President.

"So it will be a continuation of the first session of the 80th Congress—not a special session. That's a misnomer."

A check of President Truman's proclamation shows he didn't refer to it as a special or extraordinary session of Congress. He merely said an extraordinary occasion made an early convening of Congress necessary.

And incidentally, if any senators or representatives are awaiting formal notification from the President or someone that their presence is desired November 17, they're apt to be late for the session.

They'll just have to take it from the newspapers that the President did issue his call. It's the only notification they'll get.

"Publication of the proclamation is official notification of a session call," said Deschler. "Congressmen aren't notified by messenger, telephone, telegraph or any other way."

Health for All

DON'T UNDERESTIMATE MEASLES

Parents are apt to think of measles as a necessary evil. It is such a common childhood disease that they often regard an attack as inevitable and not very serious for their children. But measles may have dangerous consequences and should not be underestimated.

Measles itself is seldom a direct cause of death, excepting in children under three years of age. It may, however, lead to complications which gravely menace health and may even cause death. The child with measles is particularly susceptible to pulmonary infections or ear or eye infections. He may be susceptible to other infections as diphtheria or tuberculosis.

Because it is a highly infectious disease, measles is passed on by contact with secretions or by droplet infection from the coughing and sneezing of a person in the contagious stage of measles. It is most contagious in the period before the typical red spots appear in the skin. Therefore, it is often passed on before the disease is diagnosed. By the time the patient can be quarantined, many other children have been exposed to measles. In this early stage the symptoms are like those of a cold: sneezing, headache, running nose with watery eyes, loss of appetite and fever. There may be vomiting. The skin rashes do not appear until about the fourth day.

If the symptoms appear, the child should be put to bed and kept there, separated from other children. The doctor should be consulted at once. Every possible precaution should be taken to prevent spread of the disease in the house. Very young children in particular must be protected from contact with the sick child. It cannot be emphasized too often that children should never be deliberately exposed to measles. Common as the disease is, slight as the case may seem, the possible complications and the threat to future health are too dangerous to risk.

Directions for the treatment of a measles patient are usually simple, but should be followed explicitly. The convalescence is a most important stage and watchfulness and care may prevent serious complications.

To protect children against measles, a serum is being tried which seems to give partial immunity to the disease or lightens its severity. There are different types of measles, however, and one type does not create immunity to another type. Advice about serums and other protective measures should be obtained from the family doctor.

In the next article, the minimal TB lesion will be discussed.

Open New Attack

Peiping, Oct. 30 (AP)—Pro-government dispatches said today that 22 Chinese Communist divisions numbering 100,000 men had opened a new attack on Kirin, 60 miles east of Changchun, Manchuria's capital. Communist troops also were reported moving south on Changchun from Nungan and Tehhwei, strategic cities lost by the government recently. Dispatches said the move on strongly defended Changchun probably was designed to prevent the government from shifting reinforcements to the Kirin front.

Finn Will Face Arraignment on Assault Charge

Bail Will Be Fixed by Judge of Warren County as Aftermath of Probe

Lake George, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—John G. Finn, 22-year-old summer hotel bellhop today faced arraignment November 10 on a charge of assaulting Reva Reznick shortly before the pretty New York city nurse's bruised body was found August 1 in Lake George.

Warren County Judge Howard A. Glassbrook was to fix bail for the curly-haired war veteran, who testified at an inquest that he had struck the 23-year-old nurse during a parking session but then had lost track of her.

A county grand jury, saying its two-week investigation had failed to determine the circumstances under which Miss Reznick was drowned, indicted Finn yesterday on a second degree assault charge.

Finn was arrested at his sister's home in Stamford, Conn., shortly before the jury made its report to Supreme Court Justice Andrew W. Ryan. He waived extradition and was brought back to Lake George last night. He will be arraigned in county court.

Finn stood silently while being lodged at the county jail, giving no answers to reporters' questions.

He testified at a coroner's inquest in August that the nurse had resisted his advances in a parked automobile and he had struck her "once or twice" on the mouth. He said she then fled from the automobile and ran down the lonely road. Four hours later, at about 8:30 a. m., her body was found in the lake near the hotel where she had been vacationing.

Her shoes and coat were on the beach but otherwise she was fully clothed.

District Attorney J. Clarence Herlihy, who had been under fire by the Reznick family, was commended for his investigation by the jury, which said that failure to solve the mystery of Miss Reznick's drowning was "in no way the fault of the Warren county authorities."

When Coroner Hilton H. Dier returned an inquest verdict, August 20 of accidental death, the nurse's father, Myer Reznick of Newark, N. J., shouted, "my daughter was murdered."

The Reznick family, through Pittsburgh friends, asked Governor Dewey to supersede Herlihy with a special prosecutor. Herlihy then asked the grand jury probe.

Two autopsy reports gave drowning as the cause of death. The second, by New York city's medical examiner, noted that bruises on the body did not appear serious enough to cause death.

Finn's inquest testimony was submitted to the grand jury by Herlihy after the former bellhop, upon advice of counsel, refused to waive immunity and therefore was not permitted to testify.

Among the 30 witnesses called were two couples who had been out with Finn and Miss Reznick the night before her death. They included Lorraine Grant, 23, a fellow nurse and Miss Reznick's vacation companion, and Paul Cotton, 23, of Orange, N. J.

Finn said at the inquest that Cotton helped him in a vain search for Miss Reznick after she left the car.

Scattered Rain, Cloudy Weather Covers Nation

(By The Associated Press)

The sun was in hiding over most of the country today as temperatures leveled off to near normal.

Cloudy weather was reported from several areas and rain fell in scattered sections in the last 24 hours. Light rain fell in some parts of Maine where forest fires have spread destruction in the last two weeks. There also were light falls in the Great Lakes region, in the upper Ohio valley, in the northern Rockies, and in Washington and Oregon.

The mercury dropped to near normal in Maine and was expected to fall to near normal in parts of the east where daytime temperatures have been in the 70's and 80's for the last several days.

BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington, Oct. 29—The concluding services commemorating the 151st anniversary of the Bloomington Reformed Church were held Sunday at the Sunday morning service. The Rev. Frank B. Seeley, pastor emeritus of the Fair Street Reformed Church, Kingston, gave the sermon.

During the evening service the Rev. Luman J. Shafer, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, brought the sermon. Other ministers who assisted were the Rev. Stephen Rider of Flatbush, the Rev. Osterhoudt Phillips of the Ponckhockie Congregational Church and the Rev. Mr. Timmer of Stone Ridge. All services were well attended.

Last Wednesday evening the fellowship banquet was held in the church parlors and was attended by approximately 100 persons. At the speakers table were the Rev. David C. Weidner, master of ceremonies; the Rev. C. V. W. Bedford of Greenville, the Rev. W. K. Haysom of Amsterdam, both former pastors; the Rev. Raymond J. Pontier of the Church of the Comforter, the Rev. John B. Steketee, stated clerk; the Rev. Harry Christiana of Port Ewen and the Rev. Charles Palmer of Kingston.

Before the sermon Sunday evening Mrs. Walter Hildebrandt gave the history of the Ladies' Missionary Society while Mrs. Joseph Yunker gave the history of the Ladies' Aid and the history of the I.H.M. Bible class was given by Mrs. C. B. Ennist.

Regular services at the church include public worship at 9:45 a. m., and Sunday school, 11 a. m. Prayer meetings are held Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.

The Rev. David C. Weidner, pastor, extends a cordial invitation to all members and friends to attend these services.

PIN-WORMS GO! New Treatment Gets Real Results

Don't let your child suffer the torment of Pin-Worms! Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug, a highly effective treatment has been made possible.

So watch for the warning signs, especially the embarrassing rectal itch. Get JAYNE'S P-W right away and follow the directions. These small, easy-to-take tablets were developed after years of patient research in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son to act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

156th Will Show How 105 Gun Works

As part of its recruiting drive, the 156th Field Artillery, New York National Guard, will have a gun crew at the Kingston Municipal Stadium, Saturday night, to put on a short exhibition between the halves of the football game, demonstrating a 105mm howitzer.

Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the 156th, said he thought it might stimulate recruiting if young men could observe the type of training the Guard offers.

Last night Col. John Sheehan, commander of the 56th Regiment, State Guard, which had its headquarters at the local armory before demobilization, made a trip from Catskill to visit Col. Harkin and other officers including Capt. Hervey Keator of the State Disaster Corps. Another visitor was State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who praised the Guard for its accomplishments to date.

Members of 4-H Receive Awards

Shurter Reminds Vets About Federal Aid for Disability

Failure to recognize a service connected disability and ignorance of the fact that the Veterans Administration will pay the doctor and hospital bill, has cost the veterans of this area hundreds of dollars, the Ulster County Service Agency revealed today.

Director Howard Shurter said that he has learned that many veterans in this area have been paying such medical expenses out of their own pockets when all such costs of medical and hospital expenses, growing out of service connected disability will be met by the Veterans Administration.

Veterans with service connected disabilities who have not taken advantage of this federal benefit and veterans whose disability status is uncertain should contact the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, 240 Fair street, for complete advice and assistance in securing their entitlements.

500 Young Folk Attend Program for Achievement Night

Five hundred 4-H Club members, leaders and friends met at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium Friday evening for the 18th annual achievement night.

E. R. Bower, county 4-H Club agent, presented the following awards:

For excellent junior showmanship; a heifer blanket, provided by the DeLaval Company to Roger Hoornbeck, Stone Ridge.

For most progress in 4-H dairy work by a club member 15-20 years old; a plaque presented by Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Beatty, to Todd Meredith of Wallkill.

For achievement in dairy work by a boy and a girl 10-14 years of age; a 4-H Record Book awarded by Mr. and Mrs. J. Sanford Cross of Kyserike to Barbara Tucker of Gardiner and Roger Hoornbeck of Stone Ridge. This was presented by Mrs. Cross.

For progress shown in Guernsey work, a compote dish awarded by Hidden Valley Farms to William Hoffstatter of Whiteport.

For progress shown in Holstein work, a silver loving cup awarded by Hidden Valley Farms to Barbara Tucker of Gardiner. These awards were presented by Wilbur Cook, manager of Hidden Valley Farms.

For first place Holstein cow at county fair, a Holstein plaque awarded by the Holstein Friesian to Laurence DuBois of Gardiner.

For the greatest number of dairy entries at county fair; a book, "Cow Philosophy" awarded by the Holstein Friesian to Laurence DuBois, Gardiner.

For Jersey cattle, a gold watch fob by the Jersey Breeders Association to Wilfred Neff of High Falls for the best exhibit of Jersey cattle.

Recognition of work was made for Jean Rosa, Jane Bower, Hurley and Jeanne Myer, Flatbush, two of the girls who represented Ulster county at the State Dress Review in Ithaca in August, who will receive gold pins from The Spool Cotton Co.; Mary Koniuk, Ulster county's winner in the dairy foods demonstration contest who will receive a gold medal from Kraft Food Company; and Belle Campbell, county's outstanding food demonstrator who represented Ulster at the district demonstration day in Poughkeepsie.

The program opened with a musical review by the Rifton Rock School 4-H Club Drum Corps. The 17-piece drum band was assisted by eight small baton swingers, all under 10 years old.

Mistress of ceremony for the evening was Miss Eleanor Morehouse, vice-president of the Ulster County Older Group and an assistant 4-H Club leader. Miss Morehouse introduced Mayor William Edelmuth, who welcomed the group and congratulated the boys and girls on their achievement of the year.

Pratt Boice, chairman of the 4-H Club executive committee also gave a word of welcome and congratulations. He challenged club members to "make the best better" in the coming year.

Ivan Warren, member of the Agricultural Committee of the State Bankers Association speaking for Key Banker Fred C. Terwilliger, recognized club work as a basic and important step in agricultural economy. For the New York State Bankers Association he then presented the felt achievement emblems to the 4-H Club members. As clubs received their emblems they responded with club cheers.

Following the awards two movies were shown, "Where the Road Turns Right", the story of a 4-H Club over a period of 20 years and a film of the Ulster County Fair.

Cookies, made by the club members and cider were served at the close of the meeting by the girls of the Lake Katrine Homemaking Club.

Festive Halloween Table

(Holmes and Edwards)

If you're planning a gay Halloween party for the small fry let your refreshment table set the party pace with cheerful informal decorations. These you can make yourself.

In the setting pictured above black paper cats used for the decorative motif are easy to duplicate. To make a centerpiece of shaggy pussy cats, use three 15-inch strips of black crepe paper; five inches wide, each folded into eight thicknesses. Slash strips into coarse fringe and tie two of them with wires to fashion pompoms that form head and body. Third strip makes the tail. Face features are cut from colored paper and pasted on. Big bows of orange satin ribbon tie around their necks.

Cat silhouettes cut from stiff black paper make the candleholders, nut-cups and placecards. White chalk outlines gleaming teeth, snowy whiskers and eyebrows.

Orange crepe paper streamers form colorful borders for a white cloth. As a final festive touch, flatter your young guests by setting the table with your nicest silver, polished to gleam in the candlelight.

Navy Pays $218,056 For Helpful Suggestions

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Navy said today it paid employes $218,056 in prize money for suggestions which saved $6,095,694 during the year ended last June 30.

Some of the 6,072 suggestions adopted were simple time-savers, others complex mechanical shortcuts.

An average of one employe in 10 thinks up ideas to improve efficiency, safety or morale, the Navy said. About one suggestion in four is adopted.

Halloween Survey This Year Reveals Skeletons Ahead

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—When it comes to dressing up for Halloween most people would rather be skeletons.

Some would like to be rabbits.

And then there are those who went to be their "suppressed desires," which might be "anything from looking like a can of sardines to the sexiest thing on feet."

Lester of Lester, Ltd., Chicago theatrical supply house, on the eve of Halloween reviewed requests made by people preparing for Halloween masquerades.

This year's biggest run, Lester said, is being made on skeleton, or what the trade calls "spook", costumes. These include witches, devils, ghosts, ghouls and many other unfriendly characters. Lester explained that designs for these and other costumes require research that takes investigators through museums, universities, art archives and a good deal of literature.

Lester, who has traveled through most of the world gathering costume material, said he keeps 100,000 costumes on hand to meet demands for garments of every nation.

He said he can't recall ever being stumped to meet a request. "We've dressed up people as a pair of scissors, orange, macaroni, coffee pot, butter cookies and tube of toothpaste."

"Most popular now is the Spanish costume. Our most colorful is the chipanacas, a hand-made gown for a Mexican dance," Lester said.

"Many women ask for something daring. But once they put on something brief, they blush and cry, 'I just couldn't,' but they do and they're happy about it. This comes under the 'suppressed desire' heading. All the ladies want to be glamorous and very fetching."

Lester, who has been in the theatrical supply business for nearly 30 years, describes a Siamese outfit he believes turns most heads. "This one has a net bra that is next to nothing, pagoda shaped shoulder ornaments, a long white crepe skirt that is draped and split up one side and a huge jeweled head gear. Of course, we have a Lady Godiva wig but that's extreme without a horse."

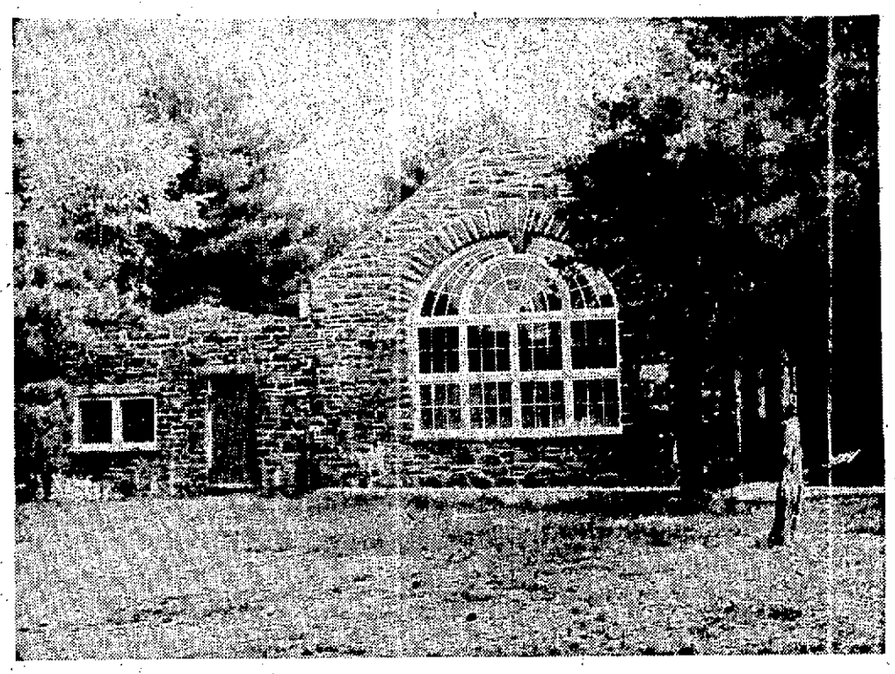
MEET YOUR MAYOR!

Taxpayers Lose $50,000 Worth of Buildings

Harold D. Gottfried Takes Ownership for $1,400

Did the Mayor Take This Up With the Taxpayers?

Here are the beautiful stone structures in Woodstock, on City Water Board property, sold for a song. WHY? Is this a sample of the Mayor's business ability? Monday evening he told the voters of Kingston in a radio address that his motto was: "TAKE IT UP WITH THE TAXPAYERS." Does it look as though he took this up with you, Taxpayers? . . . OR WITH MR. GOTTFRIED? This is the same Gottfried who was convicted in Federal Court of diverting more than a million pounds of sugar to illegal uses.



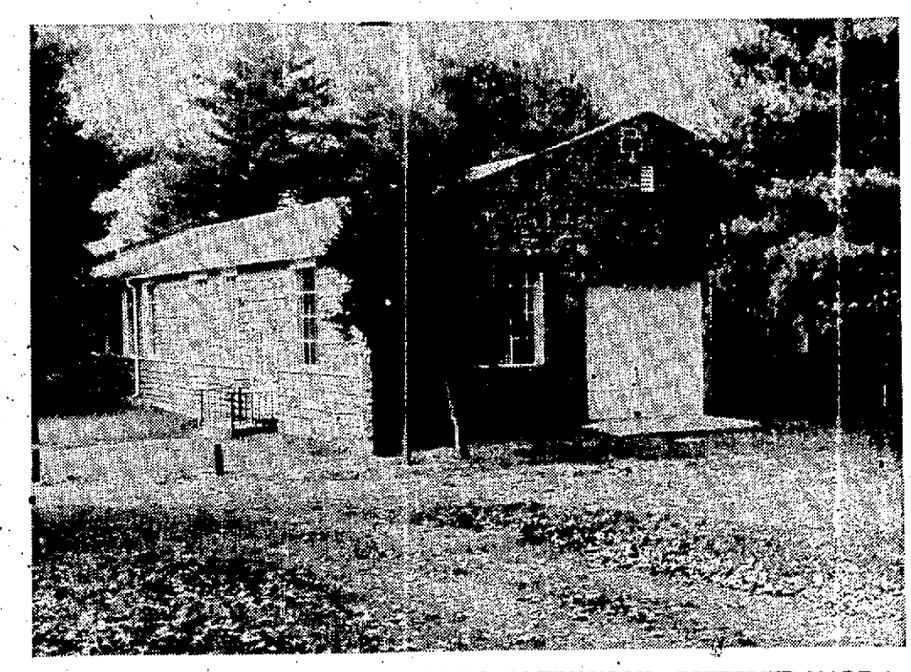
HERE'S ONE OF THE THREE BUILDINGS CONSTRUCTED AT A COST OF MORE THAN $50,000.

TAKE A LOOK AT THIS FINE STONE STRUCTURE, THEN REMEMBER THAT FOUR LIKE IT WERE SOLD BY MR. GOTTFRIED FOR $15,000 AFTER HE BOUGHT THEM FOR $1,400.

Here is what the City lost when the Woodstock property deal went through:

One Lumber Mill Storage Shed, 60 feet by 16 feet.
One Wool Shop Building, stone construction, 105 feet by 40 feet.
One Woodworking Building, stone construction, 94 feet by 41 feet.
One Foundry Building, stone construction, 60 feet by 44 feet.

Maybe the Kingston Mayor isn't interested in buildings. His Housing Committee Chairman KNOWS HE ISN'T. Sam Doyle resigned because the Committee NEVER MET to take action helping Veterans and others to find homes! Poughkeepsie has an F.H.A. project planned for 300 Garden Apartments at $1,500,000. WHAT HAS KINGSTON GOT? A lot of families seeking homes, but none in sight. Poughkeepsie Mayor Frank M. Doran says "the City Administration is OBLIGATED to take action to provide Homes."



THIS IS ANOTHER OF THE BUILDINGS ON WHICH MR. GOTTFRIED MADE A PROFIT OF $13,600 AFTER THE MAYOR LET THEM GO.

Can Kingston Afford This Mayor for a Fourth Term?

Lardner and Cole Cited For Contempt by Committee

Washington, Oct. 30 (AP)—Two more Hollywood screen writers were cited for contempt by a House Un-American Activities subcommittee today, bringing to 10 the number thus accused.

Ring Lardner, Jr., and Lester Cole were cited when they refused to give "yes or no" answers to questions whether they are or have been Communists.

As in the eight previous cases, the committee presented testimony from its investigators of finding evidence that the men cited have been affiliated with the Communist party.

Like the others cited, the witnesses took the stand that the committee has no right to ask questions about political beliefs.

Lardner, a script writer who adapted "Forever Amber" to the screen, was the first witness called as the committee went into the ninth day of its public hearings in its investigation of Communism in Hollywood.

The 32-year-old, thin Lardner wore a dark business suit, a blue shirt and a blue tie. He spoke with a nervous voice, prompting Chairman Thomas (R.-N.J.) to remark, "You haven't learned your lines very well."

The resumption of the hearings was delayed by a closed-door session of the committee to consider the future course of its hearings. No announcement was made as to any decisions reached.

Thomas had said earlier that before the day's hearings were concluded the committee would develop from a "mystery" witness "sensational evidence about atom bomb espionage."

Plane's Wreckage

Cornett and co-owner with the official of the airplane. Bad weather forced the party to halt here for dinner at the Cornett home. Later the weather reports indicated clearing conditions and they took off for the Kittredge ranch.

The first report that the plane had disappeared came yesterday morning, when Kittredge telephoned the Cornett home to ask when the party would arrive. He had waited at the Coleman Lake landing field south of his ranch until after midnight Tuesday, but went home, assuming that the governor's party had decided to remain in Klamath Falls because of the weather.

Within a short time the state's greatest search for a missing plane was underway.

Merle Lowden, supervisor of the Fremont National Forest and director of the ground searching parties in the area, reported a telephone call from George Hill, a cattleman in the lonely country near the crash, first directed air searchers over the Dog Lake mountain where the plane was sighted.

Heard Distressed Craft

Lowden said Hill had been disturbed Tuesday night by the sound of a distressed aircraft near his isolated cabin. He attempted late that night to use a forest service telephone but there was no response to his ringing over the single wire circuit linking isolated ranger stations. Later yesterday, his efforts brought an answer from a northern California forest station. Lowden said Hill had no radio and consequently did not know of the news that the governor's plane was missing.

The two pilots who sighted the wreckage flew at treetop level to establish identification by the numbers. A swath had been cut through the forest where the small plane struck and the pilots reported "no sign of life. The plane is so badly damaged that no one could be alive."

The crash was the third within a week to shock the nation. Last Friday a United Airlines plane crashed in Bryce Canyon, Utah, carrying 52 persons to their death. Search parties are still hunting for a trace of a Pan American Airways craft that disappeared Sunday with 18 persons aboard en route to Juneau, Alaska.

Gunmen Seize $110,000 Payroll

B. F. Sturtevant Company Is Loser; Six Men Complete Job

Boston, Oct. 30 (AP)—Six gunmen held up the B. F. Sturtevant Company in the Hyde Park district today, escaping with a $110,000 payroll.

The Sturtevant Company is a division of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Working methodically, two of the men entered the office of R. W. Marshall, paymaster, and two others went into an adjoining office. A fifth stood at a door leading into the factory, and the sixth remained at the wheel of the get-away car.

One of the pair who walked into the paymaster's office wore a burlap bag over his head. Marshall and five employes who were preparing to assist in preparation of the payroll were herded together, facing a wall. The pair then seized the money and fled.

Police said their only immediate clue was a registration number on the get-away automobile.

The Sturtevant Company manufactures air conditioning equipment.

Yule Light Fund Reaches $6,450 Merchants Report

The Kingston Christmas street lighting and decoration fund has passed the two-thirds mark with $6,450.50 raised towards the $8,000 goal, Byron S. Chatham, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of the program, announced today.

Lights will be turned on November 28, if possible, he said.

The Downtown Businessmen's Association committee, under the chairmanship of James Keith, reported 100 per cent of their goal pledged. The North Front street merchants' group, under the co-chairmanship of Norman Shapiro and Oscar London, had collected the largest percentage of money pledged.

James Byrne and George Schneider, leaders of the Central Business Section, said approximately 53 per cent of their goal is in cash, but reports of one committee worker were not in and many firms were seeking approval of home offices.

In the uptown business area, Mr. Chatham reported that in cooperation with Joseph Kramer he had obtained 100 per cent support from the banks and other financial institutions. More than $500 in pledges have been obtained from this source, he said, but one or two boards of directors have not yet met to approve their subscriptions.

Committee workers in the uptown area got off to a late start, he said, urging them to bring in their contributions and complete reports before this Friday.

Mr. Chatham asked business firms to give their checks to committee members who called on them or to mail them to the Chamber of Commerce. Checks should be made payable to the 1947 Christmas Lighting Fund, he said.

Committees in all business sections were confident that the lighting program would be undertaken as planned and the committee will meet again next Tuesday evening at the Y.M.C.A. to sign contracts. Committee members were asked to report with checks, or cash to cover promises at that time.

Clarence Rowland and Charles O'Conner have been asked to serve as a committee to obtain support from wholesalers and manufacturing firms, it was announced. Mr. Chatham said only $1,200 would be needed from this source and $100 already has been promised. He said real estate firms, insurance offices, doctors, dentist and funeral directors have been cooperative in both uptown and downtown sections.

Half Inch Rainfall Is Recorded Over Two-Day Period

Slightly more than a half inch of rain fell in the city during the two days of rain this week, the city engineer's office reported today as long-hanging clouds threatened more today following electrical storms last night and early this morning.

Downpours in the midst of summer-like lightning and thunder during the night were the heaviest in some parts of the county since the rains of early September, but state conservation authorities appeared still unconvinced that the rains have eliminated the danger of further forest fires.

Effects of the rains on dwindling area water supplies are considered negligible and several more days of heavy rains will be necessary to make up for water shortages caused by the long drouth.

The rainfall of last night and this morning was only .06 of an inch, making the total to date this month .51 of an inch. Rainfall in the city was heaviest on Tuesday and early Wednesday when .45 of an inch fell.

Members of the Kingston Veterans' Association reception committee will meet tonight at the American Legion Building at 8 o'clock, James Krom, secretary said today.

Lay-off at Tractor Plant Is "Temporary"

A lay-off of several employes of the Eastern Tractor Manufacturing Corp., 36 St. James street this week was described today as "only temporary" by the management.

The statement, which does not mention the number of men involved, follows:

"The lay-off at Eastern Tractor is only temporary, according to Mr. J. J. Carroll, president.

"Continuing delays on the part of foreign buyers in placing American dollars at our disposal for the purchase of Gardenaid equipment and the seasonal nature of domestic garden tractor sales, necessarily has caused a certain fluctuation in employment.

"Under normal conditions, this time of the year would be a high production period in preparation for the winter season. However, the lack of adequate storage facilities in Kingston, has further aggravated the situation to the extent that it was necessary to temporarily reduce the working force.

"It is contemplated that the staff will be returned to its normal complement when the winter season opens."

Bids to Be Returned For Veterans' Hospital

Invitations for bids have been forwarded to general contractors for the construction of a 1,000-bed Veterans' Administration Hospital in Albany, Col. W. F. Heavey of the engineers corps, New York city, announced today. Four contracts on preliminary work have been let.

The hospital will be a structure 14 stories high in the New Scotland avenue sector of Albany about a mile and a half north of the state capitol.

Plans and specifications will be ready for issuance to prospective bidders about December 10, and bids will be taken about 45 days later.

Rifton Residents Think Fire Deliberate Act

Some residents of the Rifton area expressed opinion today that a fire in the woods across Perrine's bridge Monday night might have been a deliberate act.

Members of the Rifton and Tillson fire departments worked for about an hour and a half Monday night before the fire was extinguished. It was discovered at about 7 p. m., and was burning dangerously close to the bridge which is an historic landmark in the county.

Sheriff George C. Smith said today that he had not been notified that the fire was of a suspicious nature.

Mrs. F.D.R. Declines

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—A secretary of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today the widow of the late President had declined a formal invitation from the British royal family to attend the wedding November 20 of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Philip Mountbatten. Mrs. Roosevelt replied that she would be unable to go to London because of the press of her official duties as a member of the United States delegation to the United Nations, the secretary said. The invitation was received and answered last week.

Plans Completed For Auction Sale

Baptist Men's Club Will Hold Sale Saturday

Final reports on the First Baptist Church Men's Club auction sale which will be held all day Saturday at the church were made Wednesday evening during the regular supper meeting in the church parlors. Chester A. Greene, president, presided.

The auction sale, the first attempted by the men, is being held in conjunction with the organ fund of the church and all proceeds realized from the sale will be turned over to that fund.

Attorney Floyd Powel, chairman, and Sherwood Lasher, publicity chairman, spoke in connection with the collections made this week and expressed belief that the sale would be a big success.

The public is cordially invited to the sale which starts at 9 a. m., and continues throughout the day. An auctioneer will be on hand to supervise the sale, it has been reported.

It was decided during the short business meeting that the club will endeavor to hold supper meetings on the last Wednesday of every month for the coming year. Plans for the Wednesday, November 26, meeting already are underway under the leadership of the program committee.

Believes Rain-Making Flight Was Successful

Portland, Me., Oct. 30 (AP)—Exhausted Maine took heart from a Weather Bureau prediction of "at least as much more" rain today as wet down but failed to conquer the state's widespread forest blazes yesterday. For two weeks the fires have spread destruction, taking 15 lives, levelling 1,100 homes and blackening 200,000 acres of woodland.

Yesterday's rain ranged from half an inch, at Greenville, down to .03 of an inch at Augusta. The Portland area had a quarter inch.

Whether it was all natural or partly man-made was a moot point.

Scientists in two B-17's sowed clouds over New Hampshire with dry ice, hoping to make it rain in Maine. Vincent J. Schaefer, General Electric scientist on the flight, said he believed the mission "was successful."

Weathermen at Portland were unable to judge the effect of the dry ice technique because rain fell before and after the aerial rainmakers started operations.

In any case, there wasn't enough. "The drizzle * * * hasn't eliminated the fire menace but has helped hold fires in their present 'under control' status," said Forest Commissioner Raymond E. Rendall.

Jurors' Banquet

The Ulster County Grand Jurors Association will hold its annual banquet on Wednesday, November 12, at Schoentag's Hotel, Saugerties road, at 7:30 p. m. The speaker of the evening will be Superintendent Thomas J. Hanlon of the Napanoch Institution for Male Mental Defectives. County Judge John M. Cashin will also address the members. The committee on arrangements includes Thomas J. Murphy, vice-president; Henry Macholdt, secretary, and Edmund Zeidler, treasurer. All members of the association are invited to attend.

$27,352 in Benefits

A total of $27,352 in monthly benefits was paid to 1,377 Ulster county residents in federal old-age and survivors' insurance payments in June, Jerome S. Flumberg, manager of the Kingston Social Security Administration field office, announced today. They represent survivors insurance payments to widows, children and parents of deceased workers, as well as old-age insurance payments to workers over 65 and their families.

Election Preview

Next Monday at 8 o'clock there will be an election preview broadcast from the lobby of the Hotel Stuyvesant, Mr. Eisler, operator of the hotel announced today. At that time candidates for mayor from both political parties will be interviewed and there will also be interviews with voters relative to the election forecast. Mr. Eisler said the broadcast over station WKNY would be in the nature of a "good will gathering."

Car Hits Stone Wall

A car operated by Ernest Boldinger, 20, of 95 Wrentham street, left the road a mile west of High Woods at 10 o'clock Wednesday night and struck a stone wall. Troopers from the Lake Katrine barracks reported. No one was injured.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Miss Mary F. O'Brien was held from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue, Monday morning, October 27, at 9 o'clock, thence to St. Mary's Church where a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. Francis J. Molony for the repose of her soul. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir assisted by Theodore Riccobono at the organ. Seated within the chancel were the Very Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury, P.R.V.F., and the Rev. John A. Flaherty. Sunday evening the Rev. Francis J. Molony called and led those assembled in the recitation of the Rosary. Monsignor Drury and the Rev. Flaherty also called and said prayers for the dead. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where the Rev. John A. Flaherty gave the final blessing.

Mrs. Laura LoCascio, wife of Joseph A. LoCascio, Jr., died suddenly Wednesday evening at her home on the Ohioville-Clintondale road. She was 46 years of age. Mrs. LoCascio was born in Highland, the daughter of the late Thomas and Sarah Scalise Brescia. Besides her husband she is survived by three sons, Joseph T. of Highland, and Frank and James at home; two daughters, Virginia and Marion, at home; two brothers, Frank and Joseph Brescia, of Highland; a sister, Mrs. Peter Agemine, Highland, and several nieces and nephews. She was a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the New Paltz American Legion. The funeral will be held Monday at 9:30 o'clock from the late residence with a Mass of requiem at 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church in New Paltz. Burial will be in the Highland Rural Cemetery.

Edward G. McKinley, one of the most popular young men in Connelly died Wednesday afternoon. He was born in Connelly the son of the late Leslie and Margaret O'Neil McKinley and was a member of the Holy Name Society of the Church of the Presentation. He also was a member of the Hasbrouck Engine Co., for 19 years and was chief of the Connelly Fire Department for 15 years. He was a member of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association. Surviving are his wife, the former Mary G. Sweeney, and a son, Robert Edmund Sweeney of Connelly. The funeral will be held from his late home in Connelly Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 o'clock at the Church of the Presentation in Port Ewen. Because of All Saints Day on Saturday only the absolution will be given. The burial will be in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery on Saturday. A high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul at the church Monday morning at 9 o'clock. Relatives and friends are invited.

Two Escape Death

boxes were knocked from their moorings, windows were shattered and some of the glass was melted, and the ceiling was badly buckled and shattered.

Mr. Ullmann said he felt the effects of the bolt as he stood in the hallway, but he was not injured.

The fire in the bar, he reported, started immediately after the bolt hit and it was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived.

Barringer had also tried to notify the fire department, but he was unable to get in a call until he met Raymond Davis on the road.

Fire Chief Albert Stanley Fox Jr., was in charge of the firemen and the truck was driven to the scene by Howard Trowbridge, assistant chief.

The firemen remained on the property until about 10:30 a. m. and Lt. George Rothman was in charge during the later hours.

'Wet' Water Is Used

The new type of "wet" water was used to save the other buildings on the property as a means of conserving most of the 3,000 gallons of water available there.

The bolt had apparently forced two of the cows on the lower floor of the two-and-a-half story barn from their stalls, but the third, apparently in more direct path of the lightning, was killed. The other cows escaped the fire and were out in pasture when the firemen arrived.

Those who heard the thunder fixed the time of the bolt at shortly after 2:30 a. m. It awakened residents for several miles around and many in Olive Bridge reported hearing it. Most of the firemen, therefore, were awake and ready to go when they heard the alarm.

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company was notified and sent workmen out to repair the disrupted service in the area.

The main 20-room structure is three stories high and the extension in which Mrs. Ullmann was sleeping is two stories and located nearest the barn. A two-story recreation hall and other small structures are near the house.

It is believed that the lightning struck the extension on the house first and then spent itself or most of its fury in the barn.

Polish Leader Still Missing British Report

London, Oct. 30 (AP)—British officials said today no word had been received of the whereabouts of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk since he disappeared from Warsaw 11 days ago and they expressed concern for his safety.

Rumors that the Polish opposition leader had reached Denmark, Sweden, the British Zone of Germany, or even that he was on his way to the United States, all lacked confirmation.

Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz told the opening session of the Polish Parliament in Warsaw yesterday that the Polish Peasant Party leader had made good a flight from the country.

Mikolajczyk's wife, who has been in England ever since he returned to Poland from wartime duties in London to participate in the formation of a provisional government of national unity, said she had received no word from him.

No Glamour Here

There's no glamour story behind the naming of the T-bone steak. It was so named from the shape of the bone in the steak.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

BY HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP)—A dog goes around and around in a circle before lying down in a strange sleeping place.

At last I can understand why. He's just trying to make it familiar to him, smooth it down to the old comfort he knew before.

I have been having the same problem getting accustomed to a new apartment.

For seven-and-a-half years Frances and I had a small apartment in Greenwich Village. Some friends couldn't understand why we liked a place that lacked many modern conveniences, such as central heating. But it came to have the contour of home, and we found that the cheering warmth of two fireplaces—one burned cannel coal, the other used wood—more than made up for steam heat.

Well, the old landlord died and the new owner, a young veteran back from the Pacific, said he'd need our apartment. But he finally turned out to be the kind of landlord you want to write poems about. He said we could take our time about moving, and we did. It took us exactly a year of searching to find another place to live in. Manhattan is still that crowded.

The new apartment has a spare bedroom and a stall shower and a lot of other things we had never seen before except in advertisements. It was bright and clean with a wonderful kitchen and was the first modern apartment we had lived in since our marriage ten years ago.

But for days and weeks we missed the little inconveniences of our old home, like you miss the small faults and foibles of an absent friend. We missed the fireplaces, the old wide, dirt-catching floorboards, the friendly mailman who pushed our bell downstairs if he had anything important.

To make up for the lack of fireplaces our new apartment has a great wide window overlooking a patch of the East river, busy all day with foam-lined barges and tugs. And at night from one corner you can catch a glimpse of the needle-topped Chrysler Building stabbing at heaven like a phosphorescent sword fish.

Yes, it has compensations. But one of the things that bothered us was that our two antique clocks which worked perfectly in the old place wouldn't function in the new apartment. No matter where or how we placed them, they would just tick dismally for a few moments—then stop dead.

"They don't like it here," worried Frances.

Our old furniture didn't look quite right either. But after we had shifted it around several times it finally came to rest in a way that covers up most the bare places.

So slowly, just like the dog circling his new bed, we have gradually come to have a feeling of being home. The other night Frances met me at the door to announce excitedly:

"One of the clocks is working now. I guess it has decided to stay."

She always talks of clocks and brooms and pictures and other inanimate things as if they were alive and had a will of their own. Now we think the other clock will change its mind soon, too, and go back to ticking off the hours between us and the government's old age pension.

This morning I passed the young daughter of the neighbors over us—a small black-bobbed girl with a gap-toothed grin.

"I know you," she announced gravely. "Can I come down tomorrow night and scare you for halloween?"

You sure can, honey. I guess we belong in our new place at last.

Shanks Students Plan Court of Appeals Test

New York, Oct. 29 (AP)—Students veterans living in Shanks Village, N. Y., but denied permission to register for voting there, will take their case to the Court of Appeals.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court yesterday upheld by a 3 to 2 vote a Supreme Court decision which held that the state election laws did not permit the veterans to register where they lived in Rockland county "as students," and attended schools in New York city.

Justice Frederick G. Schmidt, who handed down the ruling, said that he found nothing in the law to prevent their families from registering although he ordered this part of his decision held in abeyance pending the ruling of the higher court.

The Court of Appeals will hear arguments in Albany tomorrow.

A Dangerous Place

Alton, Ill.—(AP)—Three calamities occurring on successive days were enough to send Mrs. Ella Rice, 74, to a hospital. On Monday a heating stove exploded. Tuesday a leg broke off a kitchen table and spilled her dishes on the floor. Wednesday when the stove exploded again Mrs. Rice went to the hospital for treatment for minor burns.

Slayer of Boy, 7, Sought in Illinois

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP) — Police rounded up all known sex offense suspects today as they intensified their search for the slayer of Lonnie Fellick, 7, whose beaten body was found in a forest preserve 11 days after he disappeared from home.

State's Attorney William J. Tuohy, directing investigation, said he believed the boy, who was last seen alive Oct. 18 in a park near his northwest side home, was slain by a sex criminal.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Harry Fellick, had reported to police on Oct. 18 that Lonnie had threatened to run away from home rather than be placed in a foster home if a threatened eviction of Mrs. Fellick and her seven children was carried out.

While police hunted for Lonnie the hearing on the eviction suit was continued to Nov. 7. Police said Mrs. Fellick told them her second husband, Abe, a veteran of the last war, is in California recovering his health.

Olive Bridge, Samsonville Church Services Listed

In announcing church services for this week-end in the Olive Bridge and Samsonville Methodist Churches, the Rev. A. W. Conklin reported that last Sunday's sixth annual homecoming at the Olive Bridge church was well attended, visitors being present from 10 outside communities.

Services for November 2 are scheduled as follows:

Olive Bridge Methodist Church —Sunday school at 10:15 a. m. Morning worship at 11 with special message by the pastor.

Samsonville Methodist Church— Evening services at 7:30 o'clock; special message by the pastor.

Guest speaker at last Sunday's homecoming was the Rev. M. C. Johnson, pastor of St. James Methodist Church of Kingston, whose topic was "God's Answer Is Jesus Christ."

The choir sang special music, Thomas Sahlbeck played a violin solo; Charles Eckert sang a solo, and a duet was offered by Mrs. Reginald Davis and Miss Phyllis Davis.

Mrs. Martin Thompson gave a large floral bouquet in memory of her husband; other floral offerings were presented by friends.

Strangest Affliction

Melanosis is one of the strangest afflictions known to mankind. It is a morbid deposition of black matter, often of a malignant character, in the tissues, causing pigmented tumors.

Hollywood Union To Continue Strike

Hollywood, Oct. 30 (AP)—Carpenters Union Local 946, a major factor in the 13-month film strike and one of the last units still holding out, voted last night to continue its walkout until contracts have been signed with film producers. Business Agent James Skelton announced.

Six other unions have voted to allow their members to seek work in the studios again. The International Association of Machinists Union, independent, is scheduled to vote tonight on the back-to-work question.

The strike involved a jurisdictional dispute over some 350 set erection jobs. The unions in the conference of studio unions walked out in support of their demands for rights to these jobs. The International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes also claimed these jobs and its members did not strike. Both groups are A.F.L. affiliates.

Super-Highway Is Planned to Halt Delay for Airplanes

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

New York, Oct. 30 (AP)—A new air-marker to make possible 10-lane aerial highways, each lane carrying an airplane much as cars are separated on auto highways, was introduced in the aviation industry here yesterday at a Civil Aeronautics Authority meeting.

The super-highway of the air is designed to eliminate delays in flying which come from too many planes about simultaneously at an airport, and having to fly in circles waiting for a chance to land.

The marker is a radio computer, developed by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Company, of Minneapolis. The Civil Aeronautics Authority is planning to test it near Indianapolis.

This computer is an automatic brain that will place a ship in an airlane that is invisible, but do it as accurately as if the pilot were flying down a visible white line. The computer works on distance and direction from a ground beacon, and also tells the pilot of the plane the effects of winds of any direction, on his time and position.

The purpose is to permit any number of planes, up to 10, taking off about simultaneously from any airport, to reach a common destination without confusion.

The lanes each are separated by 10 miles from any lane on either side. Five such lanes are laid out over a width of 50 miles. The other five lanes occupy a 50-mile wide space 1,000 feet above the lower lanes.

The spacing and signalling is such that at any time any or all planes can turn back toward the airport they left, on a lane midway between the outgoing lanes.

The computer, set before take-off, figures both the course and the speed of each plane so exactly that in experiments so far made the plane reaches its destination within a second or two of the scheduled time. It was declared that with this automatic device, planes can be scheduled to arrive one after the other only seconds apart.

17 Men Help Carry Woman to Ambulance

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 30 (AP)—The services of 17 men, including 10 policemen, were required to remove Mrs. Elizabeth Edner, 70, who weighs 700 pounds, from her home to a hospital.

Mrs. Edner, who has been bedridden for 20 years, suffered a hip injury a week ago and yesterday was taken to a hospital. Ten policemen, unable to place Mrs. Edner in a police ambulance, summoned an undertaker who with the aid of the policemen, placed Mrs. Edner on a casket cart and took her to the hospital in a hearse.

The policemen, two undertakers and five hospital employes were required to lift Mrs. Edner from the hearse to the cart. She was placed in two hospital beds, which had been bolstered up with lumber.

Palmer-Boyce Marriage Performed In Highland Manse

Highland, Oct. 30—Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Boyce announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Joyce Olive Boyce, to Richard Palmer. The ceremony took place at 4:30 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, in the manse of the Presbyterian Church, with a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Oscar Jelsma.

The bride wore a red wine wool crepe suit with gray accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Her attendant was Mrs. Frank Bartula, Poughkeepsie, who wore a forest green wool crepe dress with brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. Stanley Palmer, Jr., uncle of the bridegroom was best man.

Others present were the bride's mother, Mrs. Boyce, her brother, Sgt. Roger A. Boyce, Mrs. Retta Palmer, grandmother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Stanley Palmer, Jr.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Palmer left for New York and today they left by plane for Bermuda for two weeks. On their return Mrs. Palmer will reside with her parents. Mr. Palmer is radio officer aboard the S.S. Falcon. In February they will go to Sampson where Mr. Palmer is enrolled to take a course in electrical engineering. Mrs. Palmer is a graduate of Highland High School.

Presbyterian Fellowship Guild Plans Annual Dinner, Bazaar, Auction; Committees Named

Fellowship Guild of the First Presbyterian Church made final plans for the annual turkey dinner and bazaar, November 12 and 13, at its regular monthly meeting Tuesday night. An auction will be held the second night under the direction of Earl Sweet, noted Ulster county auctioneer beginning at 7 p. m.

The dinner will be held the first night and the bazaar will be open both days.

Booths and chairmen announced are Mrs. Joseph Pfrommer, general chairman; Mrs. Walter Caunitz, chairman, Mrs. Robert McAndrew, Mrs. Casper Souers, dinner; Mrs. Louis Shaw, dining room; Mrs. Chester Davis, Miss Florence Vogel, fancy articles; Mrs. Kenneth Lantry, Mrs. Raymond Caunitz, aprons; Mrs. M. E. Parrott, Mrs. Frank Parks, food; Mrs. Everett Howard, Mrs. Chester Baltz, Jr., towels and handkerchiefs; Mrs. Claude Snyder, Mrs. John R. Henry, miscellaneous booth; Mrs. Burton Schwab, Miss Blanch Burr, jewelry; Mrs. Ralph Shultis, Mrs. John Anderson, candy.

At the business meeting Tuesday night it was decided to change the club's fiscal year to begin in January instead of April. Officers will be elected in January and the annual banquet will be held after the first of the year. A nominating committee was appointed to choose a salte of officers. The next meeting will be the Christmas party December 3.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Lane, Mrs. Frank Parks, Mrs. Chester Davis, Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Judson Markle.

200 Republican Women Attend Campaign Tea; Speaker Urges Women to Be Politically Active

About 200 Republican women from the city and all parts of the county were guests at a Campaign Tea in the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday afternoon sponsored by the Republican Central Committee. They heard Mary Goode Krone, director of Commodities Tax Bureau for the state, urge women to take more interest and greater part in political and governmental activities.

Miss Krone, who was appointed to her present position in 1943, spoke of a number of women holding responsible jobs in the state offices at Albany and of the efficiency with which they work. She said that women usually underestimate their abilities.

The speaker encouraged the women to learn the functions of the government and to be interested in how it works.

She suggested that this year was the time for the women to start getting together and working toward next fall when the national presidential campaign will be underway. She said that women should be organized in order to show their strength, so often lacking when they have not had a united effort to study political situations.

Mrs. Vincent Connelly welcomed the women and introduced the Republican candidates: Jesse McHugh, coroner; George Smith, sheriff; Edward Murray, commissioner of public welfare; Oscar Newkirk, mayor; Charles Turck, alderman at large. Mrs. John T. MacKinnon introduced the speaker.

Tea was served with Mrs. H. M. Cameron, Ulster Park; Mrs. Jay LeFever, New Paltz; Mrs. Fabian Russell, Saugerties; Mrs. Arthur Wicks and Miss Florence DuMond of this city, presiding at the tea table.

The number of passengers carried by U. S. railroads quadrupled between 1940 and 1944.

Dr. Will Hopes For Understanding Of Russia-America

Dr. Roland Will of New Paltz State Teachers' College in speaking about Russia at the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday night, believes that Americans need a "balanced mental diet." He said, "the press seems to be using a card stacking device as far as Russian news is concerned . . . all our recent reports seem to be putting Russia in an unfavorable light."

Dr. Will feels that a measure of friendly understanding between the two countries should be started or the division and lack of understanding will destroy both. Part of this understanding could be taught in schools through teachers and textbooks, the speaker observed.

Dr. Will quoted from Albert Williams' "Survey Graphic" of February 1944 the following reasons why Russians fought so fiercely and bravely in the last war: "Russia's great industrial plants give them a sense of achievement; thanks to these plants Russians are able to have more self-expression and advancement; industry has changed the Russian outlook and attitude; through this industrialization, Russia sees a future of plenty and freedom."

Following his talk, Dr. Will conducted a question forum. His subject was "The Other Side of the Iron Curtain."

He was presented as one of the Y.W.'s Public Affairs Committee's attempts to have all association meetings for the benefit of the total Y.W.C.A. membership. Miss Alberta Davis, chairman of the committee introduced Dr. Will. About 70 members attended.

Thomas Lehe Weds Nina Arana; Will Live in Puerto Rico

Miss Nina Arana, daughter of Mrs. Nina Arana, 101 West 52nd street, New York city, formerly of Puerto Rico, was married to Thomas Lehe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lehe of Edgewood, Md., Saturday evening in Clinton Avenue Methodist Church. The Rev. William R. Peckham, pastor, officiated. Mrs. Raymond Ingersoll played the wedding music and the church was lighted by candles.

The bride wore a light blue satin gown with light blue shoulder length veil and carried pink roses. Attendants were the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Irving W. Izzo, of Clinton avenue.

After the wedding and reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Atlantic City, N. J. Friday they will leave for Juan, Puerto Rico, where they will make their home.

Mr. Lehe represents the United States Insurance Company in Juan, Puerto Rico.

Eileen Farrell Sings For New Paltz Series

Singing before a large audience, Eileen Farrell, prominent young radio and concert soprano, opened the 1947-48 New Paltz Artist Series, Monday evening, at the auditorium of the New Paltz State Teachers College.

Miss Farrell's tone color is rich with the warmth of a mezzo-soprano and blessed with an evenness of quality throughout a wide range. She sang sincerely, effectively, and easily, free of dramatic mannerism. Arias by Handel and Gluck which opened the program were sung simply, yet with a restrained dramatic quality which characterizes this classical literature. A group of four songs by Brahms were effectively presented in the style of this 19th century classicist. Pace, Pace, Mio Dio, an aria from Verdi's highly dramatic opera "La Forza del Destino," was one of the outstanding favorites with the New Paltz audience.

After the intermission, Miss Farrell sang two compositions by French writers and two by Russian composers. Her program concluded with five recent American favorites, all light in nature but presented with the finesse which characterized the entire evening's entertainment. The audience brought Miss Farrell back to the stage for repeated bows and two encores. Charles Albert Baker provided an attentive and enthusiastic accompaniment for the soloist.

The great American violinist, Albert Spalding, will give the second program in the current New Paltz Artist Series, when he will appear at the Teachers' College Auditorium Monday evening, November 24.

Legion Auxiliary Third District Conference Held Saturday With State Officials as Speakers

Third District Conference of the American Legion Auxiliary was held in the Governor Clinton Hotel Saturday with Mrs. Floyd E. Brown, district chairman, presiding, and Mrs. Edwin C. Millard, department president, as one of the speakers. Other speakers were Mrs. Stanley Matthews of the local auxiliary, who is department vice president and department rehabilitation chairman; and Mrs. James Murray, department membership chairman. There were 250 members present.

At the morning session Mrs. Matthews spoke of the Christmas program planned by the auxiliary in which hundreds of veterans in hospitals will receive a gift, each of equal amount, marked American Legion Auxiliary. The auxiliary will also conduct gift shops at the hospitals and gifts sent to the auxiliary for these shops must be new.

Mrs. Matthews also told of the work of the American Legion Auxiliary women in the veterans' hospitals for many years. Because of the insistence for utmost efficiency by the Veterans' Administration now, workers must be trained. Six of the hospitals have had volunteer hospital workers' schools and she said that by the end of the year it is hoped all veterans' hospitals will have volunteer hospital workers serving veterans.

Mrs. Murray spoke of membership goal for next year which is 60,000 members. She asked membership chairmen to have lists completed by January 31 and said membership is strength for the auxiliary program, enabling the organization to increase community service, Americanism, rehabilitation and child welfare work.

In the membership parade, Mrs. Velma Clearwater, New Paltz county membership chairman, won the prize for having the most paid-up members to date in the district.

The conference was addressed by Mrs. Millard in the afternoon session. She outlined the department's program for the coming year and spoke of her project of placing children in foster homes.

She said, "What can be more worthy than to see that some child has the love and care of foster parents when they are deprived of being with their own parents through some misfortune. Some of these children need a home for just a few months . . . some a few years and others for a longer period. . . . It is a privilege to help care for these children, thus safeguarding their future. . . . They will become good American citizens.

Ulster county was hostess to the conference. Arrangements were made by members of Kingston Unit No. 150.

Abraham Steinhorn, Greenfield Park, Marries Harriet Golden at Wedding in Ritz Carlton

The marriage of Miss Harriet Golden, daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Golden of Brooklyn, to Abraham Steinhorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Steinhorn, Greenfield Park, was performed Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Ritz Carlton Hotel, New York city. Rabbi Dr. Wolf officiated and the responses were sung by a 25 voice choir.

The room was banked with chrysanthemums and autumn leaves.

The bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with a yoke trimmed with seed pearls. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a bridal bouquet. Her sister, Mrs. Helen Hass, as matron of honor wore a petal pink gown with matching veil and carried a pink bouquet. Carol Hass was flower girl.

The bridegroom's best man was his brother, Dr. Paul Steinhorn of Walden. There were 10 ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for 300 guests and a wedding dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Steinhorn left on a wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of Brooklyn College. Mr. Steinhorn attended Ellenville schools and is associated with his father in the Grand Mountain Hotel, Greenfield Park.

Stork Shower

A stork shower was held at the home of Mrs. F. W. Phinney, 48 Hinsdale street, for Mrs. John Cooke of Lake Katrine. Those attending were the Mmes. Irving Rudolph, Harry Bush, Marion Ostrander, Elwood Osterhoudt, Norman Schimmel, George Fatum, Harold Pine, Stephan Keating, Florence Tachorchick, Earl Casey, Robert Mecker, James Priest, Arthur Fatum, Charles Phinney, Delton Pritchard and the Misses Kathryn Phinney, and Mildred Ruppelin.

Miss Quinn Engaged To Wyngar E. Dugan, Former State Trooper

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence P. Quinn of Tupper Lake have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kathleen Quinn, to Wyngar E. Dugan, son of Mrs. James Dugan of Creek Locks and the late Mr. Dugan.

Miss Quinn, a senior at St. Lawrence University, is affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority. Mr. Dugan, a former New York State Trooper, attended St. Lawrence University, and is now a student at Albany Law School. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Chairmen to Meet With Local Daughters

Miss Josephine Quain, diocesan chairman, and Miss Margaret McKearney, state chairman, will meet with the councilors and committee members of Junior Catholic Daughters, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Preparations will be made for the institution of the junior group, which is new, Sunday.

After a recess Saturday afternoon for the dinner hour the meetings will be resumed at 7:30 p. m. All senior Catholic Daughters are invited to attend these meetings.

Jewish Library Opens Tonight for Season

Kingston Jewish Library will open officially tonight for the 1947-1948 season. The library is housed in the Hebrew School on Post street and offers a large selection of fiction, biography, and history.

The library will be open each Thursday from 8 to 9:30 p. m. Members of the Book Club, who are acting as librarians invite the public to make use of the material offered.

Pictures Are Seized

Athens, Oct. 30 (AP)—Police at Hassani Airport, near Athens, seized today one of a series of Associated Press pictures showing the execution of four men convicted of conspiracy and murder. The Associated Press protested to Press Minister Nicholas Balfazzi, who obtained from the minister of public order, Constantin Rentis, an order that the picture could proceed. The plane for London, however, already had left. The Press Ministry said police were not authorized to interfere with any function of the press. The Ministry of Public Order said police were being told not to interfere with the transmission of news and photos.

order to protect the children from danger she said she made many trips across the street to accompany the pupils over the route, never permitting students to cross alone. She called attention to the death of two children at the site several years ago and said she did not know what to do.

Leslie Herring of Ulster Park asked who had appointed the stop light and asked for enforcement of the speed laws by State Police to eliminate danger.

Mrs. Swan also suggested marking on school buses be prominent and that the 15 miles an hour speed past schools be enforced.

Mr. Culver of Esopus called attention to the fact that no "school" sign marked the approach to the Esopus school, the only sign in the locality being a "curve" sign about 100 feet from the school. Leslie Herring said caution signs should be at all schools. He also referred to lighted signs at schools.

Clay Road Condition

Another dangerous condition in the town at the junction of Clay Road and 9-W was called to the attention of the Commission by Mrs. Floyd Ellsworth who said a school sign there had been knocked down in an accident some time ago and never was replaced. Mr. Maeder directed that this matter be looked into immediately and said that since the school was not on the main road, perhaps a "school crossing" sign was the proper marking and the state would take care of it.

Mrs. Barkley called attention to cars passing on double lines and suggested better enforcement. "Fine a few and the speed will be reduced" she said.

Clifford Davis also suggested enforcement, saying drivers did not see lines or signs. Passing on double lines was also referred to by Mrs. J. D. Rattray. Fred Spalt suggested that someone who knew should be given the opportunity to tell the citizens just what could be done. It was suggested that parking in the business area on the main highway be stopped. Charles Council suggested a stop light to permit pedestrians to cross the street. Dave Harris finally asked that someone who could do so, be given the chance to answer the questions asked.

Assistant Director Maeder, who said he had been making a survey of conditions with the State Police and had stayed over to be at the meeting, said the Commission was always glad to hear from communities. With 14,000 miles of state highways in the state the commission could not make a survey of every condition and only when a specific condition was brought to attention could a thorough study be made. He thanked the people of the town for bringing the local condition to the attention of the commission.

In his opinion, Mr. Maeder said he believed the precautions taken at No. 13 school now gave the children the best possible protection. The set up was good and if it did not work out it might be that the supervisor on duty was not capable. He suggested that the local authorities could have erected a light at the point to be operated during the time the children were entering or leaving school. This would have to be erected and maintained by the local authorities and permission would have to be granted by the state for its erection. He said a communication had been received from Trustee Edward Dittus of District No. 3 at Esopus and that situation would be investigated. All school signs on state routes were supplied by the state and must be uniform. Mr. Maeder said much information had been supplied which would be placed before the commission. He said the suggestion that "slow" signs be placed was not looked upon with favor since the word "slow" is a relative term and means little to a driver. He did say that signs could be placed at the entrance to the village designating it as Port Ewen, a village where congestion might be encountered and motorists might slow up.

Survey Is Made

A survey was made of traffic on Sunday and Wednesday to give an average idea of the condition. Double lines where sight distance was over 500 feet he said would not keep speed down. Motorists won't observe long "no passing" zones when sight distance is sufficient for passing. The fact is gained from experience. He said 20 miles an hour was too slow a speed on the highway and would not be observed by motorists. The state had determined that 35 miles was a reasonable speed for most areas in congested places, however he suggested that in the center of the village in the business area the commission might consider a reduced speed limit. In "highly developed business areas" a 25 mile speed limit might work out. In Port Ewen he intimated that 30 miles might be advisable. He said the state would paint lines at crossings, but he observed that perhaps the people would not pay much attention to them.

A signal at Salem street might be possible if conditions warranted it. He said a further investigation of fatalities would be made. Side street traffic in Port Ewen was "negligible" Mr. Maeder said.

So far as regulation of bus stops and no parking was concerned, Mr. Maeder said that was up to the local town officials and if they would suggest what would be acceptable the signs would be erected. Local parking he said was the concern of the local merchants and local people rather than the state in local areas. Mr. Maeder said there was no law requiring school buses to be painted an individual color but beginning January first all school buses would be required to display "blinkers."

Regarding the 35-mile-an-hour speed sign which stands at No. 13 school, Mr. Maeder said he had already seen it and did not like it and had ordered its removal.

Mr. Jump, proprietor of the market in Port Ewen said traffic lights should be installed, particularly in summer when traffic was heavy. He had frequently taken from 10 to 15 minutes to cross the main street at his market in summer. Postmaster Henry also referred to parking and suggested cars be removed from the main street in the business zone.

Lieut. J. A. Steely of the State Police said the town might employ a trooper who would be stationed in the village and do general police and traffic work. The cost would be defrayed by the town and would cost $1170 a year plus maintenance. Such man would be on call 24 hours a day for general duty and could be on duty to regulate traffic when needed. In reply to a question as to why no trooper was now stationed in Port Ewen as was the case prior to the war, he said the one man station was eliminated and the men worked out from central barracks, Highland, taking care of the Port Ewen area now. Mrs. Robert Campbell was told the locality could employ a local constable or other police officer.

Also present at the session was Trooper P. R. Vandemark, traffic supervisor for the State Police.

At the conclusion of the session Supervisor Groves said the meeting would adjourn subject to call when the report from the Traffic Commission was received.

Marshall to Take

asked each year for only the next year's funds, these to be based on constantly revised estimates.

Sums Would Decrease

3. As proposed by the European nations themselves, the sums from the United States would decrease each year as recovery progress was made. Both American and European officials would try to make certain of successful recovery at the end of four years. But administration authorities are prepared to acknowledge that success can not be guaranteed and to argue that the risk of doing nothing is greater than the risk of failure.

4. In addition to American government financing the plans call for some reconstruction loans from the world bank. There is also considerable hope here that other countries, such as Canada and Argentina, might help with their own financing to permit Europe to buy needed products from them.

5. From the American side, the program would be administered by a new government agency. No decision has been disclosed as to whetherthis is to be an independent federal corporation such as the reconstruction finance corporation—with power to issue its own bonds—or an agency like the old War Production Board, responsible directly to the President.

6. From the European side, the 16 nations who drew up their estimates of need at a Paris conference would be expected to continue an organization to deal with the United States on overall aspects of the recovery plan. In addition special agreements probably would be worked out between the American government and each of the 16 nations to guarantee that American goods were used for the specific purposes for which they were furnished.

On the question of the ability of the United States to carry out the Marshall Plan, two special committees named by President Truman to study the problem have yet to report. But another committee under Secretary of the Interior Krug already has declared that the raw materials resources of the nation are adequate for the task.

Maroon and Middies Play Here Saturday Night in Vital Tilt

In The Pocket
with CHARLIE TIANO

● Bagatelles . . . .

The DUSO League started using four officials for football games this fall. . . . So what happens. . . . Newburgh has 12 men on the field at one point last Saturday and nobody notices the violation except the press and both benches. . . . How come Newburgh Academy (Reg. 1157) and Middletown (Reg. 1048) have school bands that dwarf Kingston High (1560 Reg.)? . . . We understand there is a scarcity of talented musicians at K.H.S. . . . So what! . . . We'd rather see a big band that plays loud than a small band that plays sweet and can't be heard more than 100 feet away. . . . Nobody except the music prof expects John Phillip Sousa performances from a high school band. . . . Down in Newburgh they are prepping for the Port game, "happy to have tied Kingston but 'disappointed' because they didn't win." . . . Middletown rated one touchdown choice over Kingston for Saturday night clash at stadium. . . . DUSO experts see Newburgh and Middletown on the upgrade, Port Jervis the 1947 champion and Kingston drooping and disappointing.

● Flotsam and Jetsam . . . .

Pioneer quintet is the talk of the Y Autumn League. . . . Lou Schafer's pre-season circuit is drawing good crowds and setting the stage for a banner season. . . . Andy Murphy, 3rd, combing the area for talent for the American Legion squad. . . . The Billy Van Aken-Ed Remmert city championship golf duel this week-end should prove far more exciting and palatable than the Roy Vogt-Dr. Fred Holcomb debacle of last year. . . . Holcomb, miles off his game, never had a chance against the cold, calculating approach of Vogt. . . . The 1947 duel pits a brilliant, erratic youngster against a veteran performer who is steady, if not spectacular. . . . With good weather the 36-hole playoff should attract a large gallery. . . . The respective club presidents, Roy Sutliff, Twaalfskill, and Al Schmid, Wiltwyck, getting their heads together to make a suitable award to the new champion.

● When the Small Fry Shies Away . . . .

Fordham's Father Gannon earned reams of publicity via his recent blast at high pressure football and sports writers but appears doomed to frustration in his personal drive to relegate the Rams among the "small schools" of Eastern football: . . . Fordham's big time song is ended, but the melody apparently still lingers. . . . Union, Rochester, Amherst, Wesleyan and Lehigh have refused spots on Fordham's schedule for 1948. . . . Reports of Fordham's crack frosh squad may have been a factor, but outsiders feel that Father Gannon notwithstanding, well-heeled Fordham alumni will resume steering those Pennsylvania coal miners back toward Rose Hill. . . . Fordham plays Army in 1949.

● Of Men and Mice . . . .

John J. O'Brien's American Basketball League will have eight teams this season: Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Elizabeth, Paterson, Trenton, Wilkes-Barre and Lancaster, Pa. . . . Hal Cating of Kingston is a member of Champlain College's undefeated cross country team. . . . We can pass Ben Sklon's typewriter shop now without giving a bowling lesson. . . . The boss shot 514 the other night. . . . It seems that it was Elwood Robinson and not "Stooge" Robinson who fired that 600 triple in the Central Rec League last week. . . . R.P.I. and Rochester, each with 111 points scored to date in 5 games, clash Saturday in Troy. . . . The sharpness and superb condition of the Canadian amateur boxing squad impressed B'nai B'rith patrons. . . . Ben Becker had high praise for the Canucks but didn't think they could beat the Adirondack A.A.U topnotchers. . . . We don't think so, either. . . . The New York State Foxhunters' Association has postponed its annual trials until Monday, November 10, in Walden, in case you're interested.

● Of This and Data:

The current football season is driving experts and progosticators nuts. . . . Ponder the Northwestern-Wisconsin and Cornell-Columbia games this week-end. . . . Notre Dame followers will find out if Frank Leahy has been playing possum by the time the Navy game is over. . . . The 1947 DUSO cross country championship will be contested in Middletown Thursday with Newburgh favored. Coach Kiss' best runner, Vince Di Fiore, is in California—to stay. . . . Harry Boykoff, the 6 foot 9 inch former St. John's center, is playing with the Toledo Jeeps in the National Basketball League this winter. . . . During the war, Boykoff was stationed at West Point. . . . He holds the Madison Square Garden scoring record of 54 points in a single game.

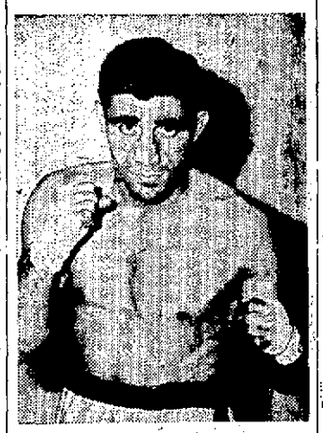
MULLIGAN MIKE SAYS: The best road to no place is—easy street.

Sailor Boxer Dies in Ring

Pasadena, Calif., Oct. 30 (AP)—James M. Wilander, a 27-year-old sailor from San Diego, Calif., collapsed and died during an amateur boxing bout last night, the seventh fatality of 1947 in United States rings. In addition to the seven American deaths there have been two in Australia and one in Spain this year.

Wilander, one of a team of San Diego sailors meeting Los Angeles and Pasadena amateurs at the Pasadena Arena, slumped to the canvas in the fourth and final round of a fight with Robert W. Harris, 20, of Los Angeles.

Two Matches Made To Support Card For Barone-Beau



TONY BARONE

Two of the five rounders supporting the Barone-Beau feature on B'nai B'rith boxing card scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 6, at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, were announced today by Ben M. Becker, director of bouts.

They are:

Mike Salle, 145, Poughkeepsie vs. Ricci Leland, 147, Gary, Ind.

Al Williams, 168, Poughkeepsie vs. Buck Raven, 170, Gary, Ind.

The four men in these two scraps, according to Becker, are durable, hard punchers, who always give a lot of action.

Fans have been awaiting the return of Tony Barone, star welterweight from Schenectady, a big local favorite, and the consensus is that his re-match with Jimmy Beau, Poughkeepsie boy, formerly of North Carolina, will be a ring duel worth watching.

Beau, who thought he really won their other skirmish, has been anxious about the return engagement ever since their first meeting. He counts on evening the score next Thursday.

Elizabeth, N. J.—Buddy Farrell, 156½, Newark, N. J., outpointed Cecil Hudson, 158½, Milwaukee, 10.

St. Paul—Vince Foster, 146¾, Omaha, knocked out Howard Bleyhl, 148½, Madison, Minn., 8.

Game Is Shifted From Friday Night Due to Halloween

The most mysterious ball club in DUSO League football circles this fall—Kingston High School—returns to the friendly confines of municipal stadium Saturday night to do battle with Coach Ed Rodiek's slumping Middletown varsity eleven. For both clubs this is the do or die tilt of the year.

The Kingston-Middy tilt, originally scheduled for Friday under the arclights, was shifted to Saturday to avoid conflict with the annual Halloween programs planned for the children of the city.

Both the Maroon and the Middies, last year's number one and two troublemakers for the rest of the loop, are mysteriously low in the standings compiled thus but backers of both schools still feel confident that a lot of change in standings will be made by the teams come Thanksgiving Day.

However, Saturday night's affair is the key game which confronts the clubs and unless they snap out of their lethargy there's a good chance that the "dark-horse" Port Jervis moleskinners will come home with the bacon.

As for the Kingston club which came out of last week's tie game with Newburgh in a dejected state of mind, reports have it that the team is still in good physical shape. The only recent injury was that to Lou Fuoco, whose leg responded to treatment and he took part in a scrimmage held Tuesday afternoon.

Rienzo to Secondary

Coach Will Burke's decision to use Mike Rienzo at the end slot during the Newburgh tilt will not get another test this week, reports have it. He'll return fiery Mike back to the secondary in the No. 4 slot in hopes of shaking the terrible slump which has cloaked the Maroon.

Meanwhile, the Maroon mentor has been trying out a number of other backfield combinations this week. Newcomers given chances to show their wares were Keyes and Wilkinson. What part they'll play in the coming games remains to be seen.

Injuries Plague Middies

While Coach Burke has his troubles up here in Kingston Coach Ed Rodiek of the Middletown club isn't all smiles either. A couple of injuries to his key players is making things anything but enjoyable for the Middie coach who is priming his dejected squad for the game here Saturday night.

Wally Cross, one of Middletown's mainstays in the backfield, is not scheduled to see action while Wally's first string sub, Charlie Van Gelder, is complaining of a bad knee and also may miss action in the vital contest. With these two injuries staring him in the face Coach Rodiek has been grooming Johnny Lyons as a blocking back. Lyons, a former back, was reconverted into a guard this year.

Rodiek also has troubles on the line where both Gordy Hallenbeck and Nick Belfiglio, ends, are on the injured list. Hallenback saw limited service in the Port game while Nick, a sub for Hallenbeck, suffered a sprained ankle.

Burke's troubles of finding a good offensive lineup also is Rodiek's main source of headaches this week during the Middletown drills. The once-potent Middies have been held scoreless in all three of their DUSO games to date.

While Kingston and Middletown are scheduled to meet here Saturday night, Port Jervis will appear in Newburgh Saturday afternoon for another league tilt.

Poughkeepsie 'Y' Sets Date for Annual Run

The Poughkeepsie Y.M.C.A.'s annual Thanksgiving Day Road Races on November 27 will consist of four events, including a mile run for boys 12 to 14 years old; high school race for 2½ miles; the men's senior A.A.U. 5-mile race and the 10-mile race for men.

The five mile and ten mile races are sanctioned by the Metropolitan A.A.U.

Entry blanks may be secured at the Poughkeepsie Y, or by writing the Physical Director, 60 Market street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

New York (Jamaica Arena)—Bill Poli, 158, Milan, outpointed Meyer Siegel, 161, Brooklyn, 8.

WILLIAMSON'S PREDICTIONS

Football fans who like their games big, tough and important will have to look to the south and midwest for their top attractions this week.

Four headliners are on the slate. The Williamson System likes Georgia Tech's unbeaten, untied Yellow Jackets to whip Duke in one of the leading games. Texas, also with an unblemished record, is the choice over Southern Methodist, despite the Mustangs' perfect record and the fact the teams will play at Dallas.

The other three-star events should catch Michigan topping Illinois and Notre Dame handling Navy, the latter probably affording the Irish their first real test.

Other interesting clashes in a ticket called for a lot of intersectional games, as well as standard crowd-pullers inside the various conferences.

Football Briefs

Colgate

Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Colgate University's Red Raiders ran through a "no-contact" drill last night for their "T" attack and defense in Saturday's game against Penn State's football team. Coach Paul Dixler said he had little hope that these three convalescents would be in form: Quarterback Charles Bricker, Beaver Falls, Pa.; Substitute Halfback Paul Mulligan, East Hartford, Conn., and Guard Vincent Vetrano, Endicott.

Cornell

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Coach Lefty James has in mind the passing of Columbia's Gene Rossides in preparing Cornell's Big Red for their football contest Saturday. He kept the squad at work long after dark last night, concentrating on plans to stop Columbia's expected aerial bombardment.

Syracuse

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—Syracuse University's football team expects to lose George Brown of Scarsdale, national extra-point record holder, and Guard Vic Merkel of Rochester, for the rest of the season. Brown is suffering from a glandular fever. Merkel has a shoulder injury.

Oakland, Calif.—Maxie Docusen, 131, New Orleans, outpointed Buddy Jacklich, 130, San Francisco, 10.

Po'keepsie Eleven Plays Schenectady Sunday Afternoon

Waldo Wood's razzle dazzle Poughkeepsie Indians will seek their fifth win in the Eastern Football League Sunday afternoon at 2:15 when they tackle the rugged Schenectady Bears at the Bridge City's Riverview field. Under the watchful eye of the new mentor from Highland Falls, the Tribe has blossomed into a powerful offensive unit complete with laterals, reverses, and spread formations that are a delight to see completed.

The Indians employed their new setup with marked success against the Hudson Pros in a league game last Sunday, downing the Columbia county crew, 18 to 6. The Redskins held a decisive edge, rolling up 243 yards rushing, 15 first downs, and making 15 of 20 passes good for 150 more yards. Penalties and fumbles kept the score from going much higher.

Maines Hits Stride

Wood's tricky formation seems made to order for Poughkeepsians who lacked scoring power in previous starts. Tommy Maines & Co. can function at full speed with the mentor shooting the works at the opposition. Maines, the big burly fullback, averaged better than five yards per carry against Hudson and seems to have hit his stride. With Tough Tommy smacking the line and Quarterback Eddie Santopadre heaving the pigskin, the Tribe is going to be hard to stop from here on in.

Morale took a decided hop after the smashing Hudson victory and the team is expected to be in high spirits for the invasion from Schenectady. Poughkeepsie beat the Bears, 7-0, in a bitter battle earlier in the season at the upstate city. The Bruins boast a powerful line averaging 200 pounds and are currently riding in third place in the circuit standings.

Pin-Down Girl

SPLITS ARE DESPAIR OF BOWLERS; MAKE SURE TO GET THE MOST PINS

Barbara Hale . . . make sure of the most number of pins on a split.

Ninth of a series written for NEA Service.

By CATHERINE FELLMETH
Women's World Champion

Splits are the despair of bowlers. Good scores can be ruined in the latter frames by splits.

There are baby splits and difficult splits, the latter referred to as railroads. Ordinarily, a bowler can pick up a baby split by rolling the ball between the pins. The railroad or difficult split requires the bowler to slide a pin across the alley and knock down another pin.

For example, the bowler confronted with a 3-10 pin split would attempt to roll the ball between the 3 and 10, grazing the 3 and caroming off into the 10. On a 4-5, again the bowler would heek to split the pins with the ball, since it isn't wise to try to slide the 4 pin into the 5, or vice versa.

Confronted with a 4-10 split, the bowler would try to slide the 4 pin into the 10.

Bowling in competition, however, where a pin or two might decide a game, the clever bowler makes sure of the most number of pins when rolling against difficult splits.

Confronted with the 4-7-10 split, as shown in the accompanying photo, the kegler makes sure of the 2-7, rather than risk missing both in an effort to slide the 4 into the 10.

A good rule to follow is to try for baby splits, but make sure of the most pins on difficult ones.

NEXT: Review.

Valuable Catch

Prize ambergris catch of all time was that of a Nantucket captain, who brought in 900 pounds of the whale product some 75 years ago. The catch was sold to perfumers in Paris for $125,000.

More Truth Than Fiction

Savinier Cyrano de Bergerac, leading character of Rostand's play, was a real person. He was a French author, who died in 1655. Rostand's play is true to facts in many ways.

Amato Hits 632

Tommy Amato again highlighted the Midnight League matches at the Central Recreation alleys Wednesday night with a 632 triple on a string of 236-243-153. Amato's nifty string paced the Flying Saucers to three straight wins over the Rifton Fire Co.

Other top scores rolled last night included P. Corrado 202-583, C. Robinson 202-565, A. Corrado 203-528, E. Auchmoody 186-506 and Milt Arlensky 199-500.

Chisox to Fight Chandler's Edict

Les O'Connor and Club Both Suspended for Signing Youth

Cincinnati, Oct. 30 (AP)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler's office promised a "statement of facts" today following suspension of the Chicago White Sox and General Manager Leslie O'Conner yesterday in a case pivoting on an alleged violation of the national pastime's high school rule.

O'Connor and the American League club were suspended, Chandler's secretary, Walter Mulbry said, after the general manager refused to remit a $500 fine levied in the signing of 17-year-old George Zoeterman, a Chicago Christian High School pitcher who won't finish his studies at the Lutheran Institution until January.

Mulbry said last night that both O'Connor and the club would be reinstated immediately if the fine was paid, but the White Sox boss indicated he would fight the Chandler edict. The ball club's executive office released a statement, however, terming the suspension an illegal act and an attempt "to coerce the club and Mr. O'Connor in the submission to his (Chandler's) illegal acts."

As originally drafted by a major league committee of which O'Connor was a member, the high-school rule applied only to schools holding membership in the National Federation of High School Associations.

Baseball sources claimed the rule never was amended but Mulbry said that after its adoption two bulletins were sent to club owners advising them Chandler would interpret the rule as applying "to all high school students."

The suspension, he explained, bars both the club and O'Connor from participating in any of baseball's "transactions and activities," including the major league player draft Nov. 10.

Mulbry said he "assumed" the team couldn't play ball if the fine were not paid by the start of next season and added, without elaboration, "but the commissioner would take more definite action."

Trainmen Receive $250,000 Awards In Strike Ruling

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen received awards totaling $250,000 in the mediations at Washington, D.C., this week which settled the brotherhood's strike against the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad which was to have taken place tomorrow morning.

J. J. Hammill, New Haven Division brotherhood general chairman, reporting on the mediations, said last night that eight of the 10 cases on the original strike ballot were "favorably disposed" of for the brotherhood "amounting to awards of $250,000." Two of the original cases were dropped, Hammill said. He did not identify the cases.

Last week the 5,000 New Haven road members of the brotherhood voted to go out on strike, claiming that the road had failed to abide by certain rulings of the National Railroad Adjustment Board concerning pay for brotherhood members reporting for work 30 minutes or more before the departure of their trains. This the railroad denied.

Settlement of the issues was announced from Washington Tuesday night after two days of negotiations with the National Mediation Board.

The road was represented at Washington by E.B. Perry, assistant vice president and H. L. Filer, general solicitor. The brotherhood was represented by Hammill and its vice president, J. R. Lavin. The services of the mediation board were requested by the road after the brotherhood had set the strike date for tomorrow morning.

Willow Rifle Club Receives Charter, Nov. 4

The newly organized Willow Rifle and Pistol Club will receive its National Rifle Association charter on Tuesday, November 4. Peter J. Cappasola, secretary of the Willow club will make the presentation to Charles Timpson, president of the new rifle and pistol club. The ceremony will be held in Mr. Cappasola's home.

The Willow Rifle and Pistol Club was organized by citizens of the town to promote the sport of shooting. Its N.R.A. charter will give it national and international recognition and make its members eligible for the 1948 American Olympic team.

Officers of the club are: Charles Timpson, president; Washington Wilber, vice-president; Peter J. Cappasola, secretary; Gene Wilber, executive officer; and Andrew Allerman chief instructor.

Other members of the club are: Aubrey Stoutenburg, Allen Stoutenburg, Aaron Van Der Bogart, Kenneth Van Wagner, John Parker, Fred Tripicco, Walter Stone, George Wilber, Don Dosso and Ben DeGraff.

Fever Outbreak Threatens Horses

Chicago, Oct. 30 (AP)—Possibility of a serious outbreak of "swamp fever" among horses in any part of the nation was seen today by the American Veterinary Medical Association as the result of incidence of the disease this summer among race horses in the east.

An association spokesman said that although known and suspected cases were quarantined at the Rockingham Park track near Salem, N. H., many horses that may have been infected were shipped to tracks in various parts of the country before the disease was diagnosed in New Hampshire.

Swamp fever, he said, is an infectious anemia which either kills outright or wrecks the health of the horse or mule victim for life. It is a virus disease.

Speed in Decline

The average speed of U.S. freight trains reached a peak of 16.7 miles per hour in 1939 and 1940 (up from 11.5 miles per hour in 1921) but declined slightly since.

Ethylene gas is now used to help ripen and color many kinds of fruit.

Committee Plans Insurance Probe Of Rate-Making

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 30 (AP)—The joint Legislative committee on insurance rates and regulation will open a probe of insurance rates two weeks from today.

Chairman Walter J. Mahoney, Republican Senator from Buffalo, announced last night the committee would conduct hearings Nov. 13-14 in New York city on rate-making regulation. Subsequent hearings, he said, will cover possible monopolistic practices and restraint of trade.

Mahoney said the investigation was not intended to produce a "witch hunt or a whitewash for any conditions it may discover."

The purpose "is to gather facts from the state insurance department and from insurance companies which ultimately will be used in drafting recommendations to the Legislature," he added.

The seven-member committee was created by the 1947 Legislature and granted a $25,000 appropriation to investigate the insurance business and determine whether additional state laws were needed to meet federal requirements on rate-fixing and anti-monopoly controls.

Mahoney said the committee would submit a report for use as a guide on legislation to permit insurance to remain under state control, instead of being "ruled under the jurisdiction of federal anti-trust and interstate commerce laws after July 1, 1948."

Under a U. S. Supreme Court ruling, insurance is interstate commerce. Federal public law 15, which becomes effective next July, provides that the industry will be subject to the Sherman Act, the Clayton act, the federal trade commerce act and similar laws.

Mahoney said the effective date of the statute constituted a moratorium for states to enact regulations that, in effect, would retain state control of insurance.

Police Have Revolver

The local police are holding at headquarters a .32 calibre Iver Johnson revolver which was found near Mother's Laundry on Wilbur avenue. It was brought to headquarters after John Klonowski, 17, of 482 Wilbur avenue reported early last night that he had found it near the laundry.

THE 'POINT COUNT' SYSTEM, FOR N.T.

BY WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for N.E.A. Service

(Fourth in a series of six special Lesson Hands.)

More and more you are going to hear about the point count system for no trump. A great many of the present day experts are employing the point count. Most of them are using the 4-3-2-1 count—that is ace counts four, king three, queen two, jack one.

Milton Work made this count popular 20 years ago, and even in those days it had been well established in whist. Dick Richards referred to it as the "pitch" count.

Most of today's experts want a minimum of 16 for one no trump and 22 for two no trump.

In today's hand the point count is employed to arrive at a correct suit slam. North has a count of 24, a good two no trump bid.

South's bid of three spades is not a strength-showing bid. It simply says, "Partner, I have a five-card spade suit." North's bid of three no trump conveys the fact that he does not want to play the hand in spades, so South, with his bid of four diamonds says, "How would you like to play it in diamonds?" It also tells North that South has two suits of at least five cards each. Even if his partner does not have the king or queen of diamonds, North can see that if the diamonds break two-two, a slam in diamonds can be made. The ace of hearts and the ace-king of clubs will take care of the three off-cards, and the spade suit can be established by ruffing.

North's deductions are correct, even with a heart opening. Declarer goes up with dummy's ace of hearts, and discards his losing heart on the king of clubs. Since the diamond suit split two-two, he lost only one diamond.

Tribesmen Invade

New Delhi, Oct. 30 (AP)—Fifteen Royal Air Force Dakotas were expected to complete evacuation today of 200 to 250 British civilians from Kashmir, where Indian and state troops were reported repelling invading Pathan tribesmen from Pakistan's northwest frontier province. A high military source at Indian headquarters said it was unlikely that military operations would be completed in Kashmir for some months. The raiders were said to total at least 5,000 men and reinforcements still are streaming across the Pakistan border. The invaders were reported to be well armed with modern weapons.

The Great Lakes have a total shore line of 8,300 miles.

Promises Statement On Writer's Arrest

Budapest, Oct. 30 (AP)—Laszlo Rajk, Communist interior minister, promised to issue a statement today concerning the arrest and interrogation of Miss Elizabeth Pallos, secretary in the Associated Press office in Budapest who has been held by Hungarian authorities since Monday.

A. U. S. Legation official said last night that Communist Foreign Minister Edik Molnar's secretary was "most uncooperative" when the legation phoned to ask when American officials could interview Miss Pallos—an American citizen.

Previously the legation had sent a notice to the Hungarian foreign ministry demanding the right to interview Miss Pallos under terms of existing treaties.

Hungarian police refused to state where or on what charges Miss Pallos was being held.

Lake Katrine Home Bureau will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Edwin Davey, 119 Wilson avenue, November 5 at 1:45 p. m. A lesson on fabric bags will be held at the Grange Hall in Lake Katrine at 1 p. m. Monday. Mrs. Davis Stevenson will be the leader.

Family Life This Week

Family life study clubs have been held in Ulster county under the auspices of Home Bureau this week. Miss Edyth Barry, specialist in family life, participated in the discussion.

Tonight she will speak to the Milton Child Study Club at the home of Mrs. Francis McLaughlin, Marlborough, at 8 o'clock. This afternoon she spoke to the council of the county clubs at the Home Bureau office in Kingston. Two representatives from each of the 16 clubs were invited. Her topic was "New Ideas for Study Clubs."

Miss Barry has met with the C. to C. Study Club, Kerhonkson, Monday; E.K.A. Study Club, Ellenville, Wednesday afternoon, and at Saugerties Child Study Club, Wednesday night.

'Red Tide' Is Blamed UponMicroscopicCreatures

College Park, Md., Oct. 30 (AP)—An aquatic biologist for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service blames New Jersey's "red tide" on countless millions of microscopic marine creatures which have invaded the shore area.

Dr. Walter A. Chipman, now completing studies of the phenomena, said the Jersey "tide" was quite different from the one which appeared off the Florida coast and resulted in widespread destruction of fish throughout the area.

Dr. Chipman said there was no evidence of pollution in the New Jersey coastal area and that investigators could find no indication of fish being harmed by the invaders.

how to cut one cost of living
What say to a plan that might make a whacking big reduction in heat costs? There's no catch in this! The General Electric is one fine oil-fired boiler—that also provides year 'round domestic hot water. But not enough folks know that it is positively miserly with the fuel. It is a G-E engineering accomplishment that can make new owners gasp. Those savings are something you can check in advance. Here's the plan—
HAVE US FUEL-COMPARE YOUR UNIT WITH A G. E.
Our Home-heat Survey can turn up some mighty interesting facts. Just match the cost of running your present plant with the low fuel consumption cost of a G.E., and—well, here's a tip—
